“Rising Above for Education”

PURPOSE

To support two non-profit, Princeton-based educational organizations, G.A.L.S. Technology, Inc., and Flight Expo, Inc. Money donated into the sweepstakes will help purchase a building in which they can more effectively, conveniently, and safely offer their numerous educational programs. Currently, their educational programs are limited due to size. With a new building, they would be able to expand their programs and services to a greater number of people with greater effectiveness as a result of the larger space.

WHY THE PROGRAMS ARE IMPORTANT

The educational programs for both G.A.L.S. Technology and Flight Expo give youth and young adults opportunities to learn real-world skills, to grow in their ability to communicate and work as a team, and to progress in their achievement of skilled certifications. Flight Expo is currently offering opportunities for youth to engage in classes and programs related to aviation, including their Build-a-Plane Program, their Flying Club, and their Tsunami Project. Flight Expo also gives students the opportunity to become A&P certified.

FLIGHT EXPO'S SUCCESSES:

- Flight Expo has produced two certified private pilots.
- Flight Expo has produced a certified welder.
- Flight Expo has produced a certified A&P mechanic who now works for Cirrus Aircraft.
