

☀ Welcome to the Doctor of Divinity Program

At Lamad University, we believe that quality theological education should be accessible, affordable, and attainable for every servant leader called to advance the Kingdom of God. You should never have to pay $40,000–$150,000 to earn a Doctor of Divinity degree.

Our D.Div programs in Biblical Studies, Church Administration, Christian Education, and Ministry Leadership are designed for those who desire to deepen their spiritual understanding while gaining practical, ministry-ready skills — without the financial burden of traditional seminaries.

We proudly offer online correspondence and hybrid courses, giving students the flexibility to study at their own pace while maintaining active ministry or professional commitments. For those seeking to fast-track their education, our Accelerated Degree Program allows students to CLEP out of core courses by passing comprehensive exams. Each CLEP exam costs just $65, and students receive a study guide and unlimited time to complete the test — saving thousands in tuition costs while demonstrating mastery of key subjects.

In partnership with The Adell Foundation, Lamad University extends a Partial Scholarship to eligible students who successfully complete their core classes with a minimum 75% (C average or higher). This scholarship covers tuition for the Spiritual Life Coaching Program and the Field Service Module — providing both academic enrichment and real-world ministry experience at no additional cost.

At Lamad University, we equip today's leaders with timeless truth, spiritual depth, and practical wisdom — empowering you to answer the call of God with excellence and confidence.

Course Delivery & Learning Support

All Lamad University courses and exams are offered in flexible formats designed to meet the needs of students worldwide. You may complete your coursework through any of the following delivery options:

- E-Courses (Online or Email Delivery) – Students receive lessons, study guides, and exams either through the Online Test Room or directly via email. This format allows you to work at your own pace and submit completed assignments electronically.
- Correspondence by U.S. Mail – Printed course materials, exams, and guides are mailed to students who prefer traditional study methods.
- Hybrid Learning Option – Combines online and mailed correspondence for a customized learning experience.

Each course may include video lectures, Q&A sessions, and virtual discussions with professors and instructors. These interactive components help reinforce key concepts and ensure that you fully grasp the course material.

You are encouraged to use your King James Version (KJV) Bible, along with the provided study guides, videos, and professor-led Q&A sessions, to ensure your success in every class.

Students are welcome to contact their professors or academic advisors at any time with questions or concerns throughout their training. Lamad University is committed to providing a supportive, faith-based academic environment that empowers every student to grow in knowledge, leadership, and purpose.
