

2023

Where to Find Grants – Nonprofit Edition

3 Levels of Grants

Canada has one federal, ten provincial and three territorial governments. Within each province, there are many different municipal/local governments. Each level of government provides grant funding. Further funding can also be sought from provincial and privately funded foundations.

Federal Grants

The federal government, which is the national government of Canada, offers a variety of grants and funding.

Federal Grants

There is a handy Government of Canada grants and funding search tool.

What type of funding are you looking for? The following are the different types of federal funding:

- Agriculture
- Arts, Culture and Sport
- Business
- Environment
- For Indigenous Peoples
- Gender Equality
- Health
- International Development
- Jobs or Apprenticeship Training
- Leave from Work, Caregiving, and Pensions
- Research
- Student Aid

Provincial Grants

Each province has grant programs and funding.
Click on the province's logo to view their grants.

Alberta

British Columbia

Manitoba

New Brunswick

Provincial Grants

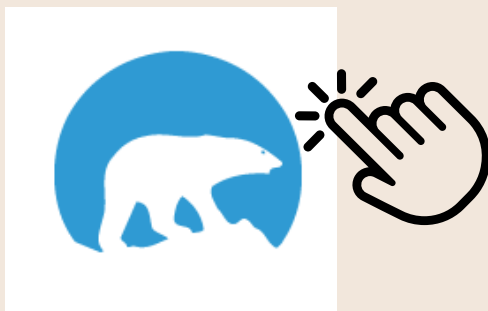

Each province has grant programs and funding.
Click on the province's logo to view their grants.

Newfoundland and Labrador

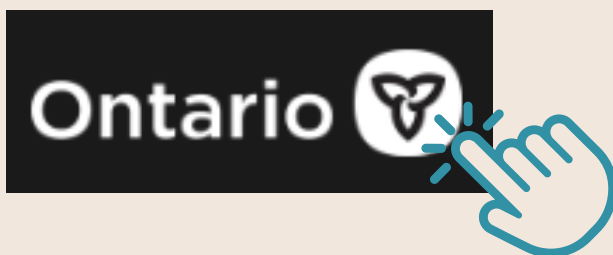

Northwest Territories

Nova Scotia

Ontario

Provincial Grants

Each province has grant programs and funding.
Click on the province's logo to view their grants.

Prince Edward Island

Saskatchewan

Quebec

Nunavut

Municipal Grants

Most municipalities have grant programs and funding. You can also find grants at local city foundations. Note that most foundations require organizations to be registered charities.

Toronto

Calgary

Ottawa

Edmonton

Municipal Grants

Most municipalities have grant programs and funding. You can also find grants at local city foundations. Note that most foundations require organizations to be registered charities.

Vancouver

Hamilton

Winnipeg

Libraries

Most local libraries will give you free access to a paid subscription grant search platform called Grant Connect. All you need is a library card.

Message From Sarah

Thank you for joining my newsletter community. I'm Sarah Jessie Tucker, Grant Writer, Law Clerk, Poet, Storyteller, Genealogist, and Cultivating Safe Spaces Facilitator.

I'm passionate about supporting visionaries, change-makers, and leaders striving to build organizations or projects that directly or indirectly reduce suicide rates and/or strive to make a social impact that aligns with one of the United Nations Sustainability Goals. I develop 12-18 months funding strategies and offer grant coaching, and grant writing services.

Click to book your free consultation.

I am Treaty No. 13 People and I was raised in Scarborough, ON. My settler origins are Ireland, Scotland and England. I currently reside in Mohkínstsis, also known as Calgary.

Grant writing
can be stressful
& triggering but
it can also be an opportunity to coach your organization's vision.

Contact

SJT Writing

Treaty No. 7

www.SJTWriting.ca

 @sjtwriting