Utah Offense

If it is any indication of what might be expected, last year's quarterback Don "Brownie" Van Galder (19) set four single game passing marks against New Mexico. With adequate protection from the offensive line, he may try to better those records Saturday.

The big offensive line is anchored by Chuck Johanson (52) and senior Jerry Buchert (54), alternating at the center spot. On the right side there is added experience in junior guard Bill Powers (68) and senior tackle Bob Peterson. Dave Dahl (71) and Bill Osterman (78) compensate for inexperience with size to bolster the left side.

Van Galder's favorite receivers are Willie Armstead (45), Lance Robbins (82) and Steve Odom (25). Armstead, who is playing his first year for Utah, moves like very few tight ends can after catching the football. On crucial downs, Van Galder will usually go to the sure-handed Robbins for the necessary yardage. Odom, who also returns punts and kick-offs, is a scoring threat every time he gets his hands on the ball.

The running corps consists of co-captain Gene Belczyk (20) at halfback and Steve Marlowe (44) at the fullback spot. Junior Mickey Conway (34) adds power and experience as a replacement for Marlowe. Speedster Ike Spencer (22) gives Utah a major breakaway threat when he subs at halfback. If Utah is to move the ball in the air, however, they must first establish a running attack.
