

Quarterly television series

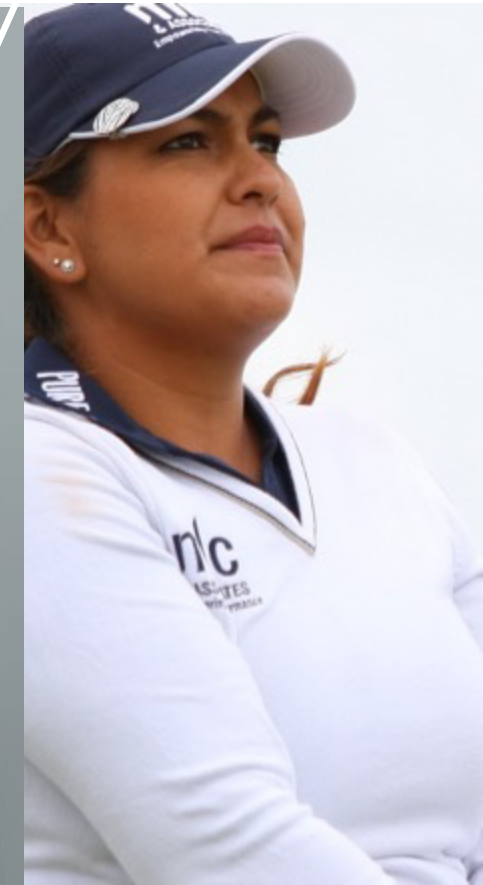

For more information or content viewing go to wotmtv.com

Past Featured Profiles

- Kiki Wolfkill: Studio Head, Halo (Gaming & Film)
- Linda Alvarado: Owner MLB Colorado Rockies
- Wanda Durant: Motivational speaker, mother of NBA superstar Kevin Durant
- Emily Perl Kingsley: Special needs advocate and Sesame Street writer
- Melissa Proctor - NBA Atlanta Hawks, Chief Marketing Officer
- Lizette Salas: LPGA Pro golfer ranked 16th in the world

Black History Month

February 1- February 23

The series begins in the first quarter with our Black History Month edition. Here are a few of past featured profiles:

- Melissa Proctor, CMO of Atlanta Hawks, started as the NBA's first ball girl as a teenager
- Tracy Wilson Mourning, from humble beginnings in a single family home to co-founder of a school for impoverished youth and founder of a girls mentoring program
- Virginia Ali, owner of Washington DC's iconic restaurant Ben's Chili Bowl and the rich history: from Dr. King's visits to her influence on DC culture.

Magnificent Mothers

May 3 – May 25

The edition focuses on mothers with amazing stories of triumph as it relates to motherhood, not only with their own children but the community. Past profiles include:

- Emily Perl Kingsley, Emmy Award winning writer for Sesame Street and early advocate for people with disabilities on television
- Gessie Thompson, her decade long infertility issues led her on a journey to develop health and wellness protocols for women dealing with those issues. Over 200 women have been helped by "Coach Gessie"
- Virginia Loving, a fifty two year old mother sees her daughters painful and expensive struggle with fertility and makes a bold decision; to reverse menopause and become a surrogate for her daughter

Hispanic Excellence

October 4 – October 26

The edition is our Hispanic Heritage Edition. Past featured profiles are:

- Cristina Zayas Paccione, from a community activist, early child care advocate, to Chief of Staff to the Mayor of Chicago her commitment to the community is an inspiration
- Anita Padilla Fitzgerald, armed with only a high school diploma she started as a clerk at a bank and rose thru the ranks to become President of a major financial institution. She has since started her own company, becoming a well respected national leader in the mortgage loan business

Year In Review

December 6 - December 28

A compilation of a few of the women featured during the calendar year and highlight segments on women making a tremendous impact during the year. Here are a few of the profiles featured:

- Mary Barra, daughter of a former GM plant worker and worked on the assembly line while in college has ascended to become the first woman CEO of a major automotive company
- Kamala Harris, achieved many first in her career but her ascension to the 2nd highest position in politics, Vice President, to her run as the Democrat nominee for President dominated the media

What To Expect

Empowerment

Leadership

Performance

THANK YOU

Contact your rep for more details

