USD 1,500 - 5,000

Artist: Jean-Michel Basquiat (American, 1960-1988) Title: Figure with Halo, 1983 Medium: Acrylic and oil on canvas Signature: Inscribed verso "1983 Jean Michel Basquiat? with crown motif" Dimensions: Canvas 28 x 39.5 in (71 x 100 cm), Framed 33 x 45 in (84 x 114 cm) Description: An extraordinary large-scale painting Jean-Michel Basquiat, created in 1983 at the height of his career. This electrifying composition features a skeletal figure with outstretched arms and a radiant halo of black thorns—a recurring symbol of divinity, martyrdom, and social critique in Basquiat's work. The canvas is layered with cryptic symbolism, dynamic textural elements, and abstracted forms including the iconic three-point crown, anatomical references, and directional arrows. The vibrant color palette—anchored in blues, yellows, and reds—evokes Basquiat's urban visual language, merging the raw energy of street art with profound commentary on race, power, and identity. The verso of the canvas bears the artist's name, date, and signature crown emblem. Provenance: Private collection, United States

32: Sergio Lazo (Cuban-American, b. 1970s) Out of My Way, Acrylic on canvas

USD 1,000 - 3,000

Artist: Sergio Lazo (Cuban-American, b. 1970s) Title: Out of My Way, 2012 Medium: Acrylic on canvas Signature: Signed and titled by the artist on the verso; signed lower right on front Dimensions: 24 x 48 in (61 x 122 cm) Description: An electrifying large-format painting by Miami-based contemporary artist Sergio Lazo, titled Out of My Way. In this bold, raw expression of pop surrealism, Lazo captures the manic energy of confrontation and escape. A wild-eyed figure sprints across a gritty foreground with a distorted electric guitar in hand, seemingly fleeing—or confronting—a sharp-toothed, surreal creature in pursuit. The explosive contrast of mustard yellow, burnt sienna, and graphite greys heightens the narrative tension, while Lazo's use of thick textural brushwork and gestural line recalls the intensity of street art and neo-expressionist influences. Lazo's unmistakable aesthetic blends satire, symbolism, and cartoon-like exaggeration, often exploring themes of fear, chaos, and absurdity in modern society. Self-taught and prolific, his Miami studio is a hub of vibrant visual commentary and experimental pop-art energy. Provenance: From the artist's studio, Miami, FL Artist Background: Sergio Lazo is a self-taught Cuban-American contemporary artist known for his vibrant, emotionally charged canvases. Based in Miami, he has developed a loyal following for his dynamic pop-surrealist style, which merges graffiti, cartooning, and street culture with personal and psychological themes. His works are featured on his official website and have been exhibited across South Florida.

32A: Folk Art Wooden Panel Painting "Ghost Train"

USD 150 - 500

Title: Folk Art Wooden Panel Painting "Ghost Train" Description: A hand-painted wooden panel depicting a stylized steam locomotive labeled "420" with the word "GHOST" inscribed above the smokestack. The locomotive's boiler is adorned with the painted profile of a woman in a red polka-dot headscarf, her hair flowing as if in motion, adding a whimsical and surreal touch to the scene. Executed in a naive, folk art style, the work features bold colors, simplified forms, and expressive brushwork, evoking the charm of mid-20th century carnival or fairground art. The panel retains its original rustic wooden surface, with age-related wear that enhances its vintage character. This piece is likely inspired by or associated with decorative panels used in carnival "Ghost Train" rides, a classic fairground attraction. It stands as a unique example of Americana folk art with both nostalgic and decorative appeal. Medium: Acrylic on reclaimed hand-painted wood panel Dimensions: 30x10 in Weight: 1.9 lb Provenance: Private collection

33: Romero Britto (Brazilian, b. 1963) Boy with Cat, Color serigraph on wove paper

34: Roeder (20th Centr.) Skeleton with Fruit Husk and Cricket, Watercolor on paper

USD 500 - 1,000

Artist, Title: Roeder? (20th Century), Skeleton with Fruit Husk and CricketMedium: Watercolor on paperSignature: Signed lower left: Roeder?Dimensions: 30 x 22.5 in (76.2 x 57.2 cm)Description: A whimsical yet contemplative watercolor composition featuring a skeletal figure striding with a walking stick, carrying a large fruit-like husk on its back, with a curled leaf and a tiny cricket beneath its step. Painted in sepia and ochre tones with soft lavender shadows, the scene evokes both the absurd and the symbolic—possibly a meditation on labor, mortality, or the passing of seasons.Executed with gestural economy and a surrealist flair, the work bears a signature Roeder? and demonstrates a unique visual narrative with anthropomorphic energy.Provenance: Private collection, United States

35: Paul Klee (Swiss-German, 1879-1940), Cubist Still Life with Guitar, Offset print on paper

USD 150 - 300

Artist, Title: Paul Klee (Swiss-German, 1879–1940), Cubist Still Life with GuitarMedium: Offset print on paperSignature: Printed Roeder? lower rightDimensions: 28 x 22 in (71.1 x 55.9 cm)Description: A bold and vibrant modernist composition printed in the style of Paul Klee, one of the most influential artists of the early 20th century. Rendered in sharp geometric forms and flat areas of intense color—red, yellow, green, blue, and black—the piece depicts a stylized still life with a guitar, abstract shapes, and intersecting planes in a Cubist-inspired layout. Though the work bears a printed signature, it is likely a posthumous print reproduction produced for decorative or educational purposes. The crisp lines and hard-edged color fields suggest a silkscreen or high-quality offset process. This work captures Klee's deep engagement with musicality, form, and color theory.Provenance: Private collection, United StatesNote: This is not an original hand-signed work by Paul Klee, but a printed reproduction after his style and compositions.

36: Luis Apela ez (Cuban, 1910-1989) Still Life with Fruit & Geometric Motif, Gouache & ink on paper

USD 1,000 - 4,000

It features a reclining nude woman with a musician playing a stringed instrument, resting on a richly detailed carpet. The vibrant colors and finely cast figures reflect Bergman's mastery in capturing exotic themes and romanticized scenes. Description: A finely detailed cold-painted bronze sculpture, depicting a reclining odalisque with a musician, set on a patterned rug. The rich polychrome finish and lifelike detailing capture the opulence and mystique of the Orientalist style, making this piece a remarkable example of early 20th-century Austrian bronze art.

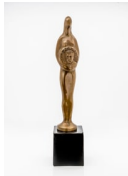

153A: Charles Carmel (c. 1895) Antique Coney Island Carousel Horse

USD 15,000 - 20,000

Description: This striking, hand-carved carousel horse is a rare mid-row "jumper" figure, attributed to the famed Coney Island carver Charles Carmel, circa 1895. It exemplifies the flamboyant and expressive style of the Golden Age of American Carousels (1880 to 1910), with dynamic posture, sculptural detailing, and rich surface decoration. The horse is presented in a classic leaping pose, with all four hooves raised, and features an expressive head with open mouth, sculpted teeth, flared nostrils, and a signature pink tongue—a hallmark of the Stein & Goldstein school, where Carmel apprenticed. The body is finished in a palomino tone with a light cream mane and tail, white socks, and a carved leather-textured saddle and trappings, complete with an oversized harness buckle at the base of the neck—another Stein & Goldstein motif. Restoration: In 1987, the horse underwent a meticulous museum-quality restoration by The Carousel Works (Bristol, CT). The piece was fully disassembled, reglued, structurally reinforced, and repainted based on the original layers of color discovered beneath overpaint. New leather tack was applied, and all decorative elements were recreated in historically appropriate colors and style. The restoration was documented and is supported by original paperwork and invoice. Additional Information: This horse is not only a magnificent decorative piece but a genuine slice of American fairground history. A true collector's item or museum-quality display, it would enhance any fine Americana, folk art, or carousel-themed collection. Dimension: Across nose to tail: 47", Head to heel: 42", Width of horse: 10", Width of seat: 7". Weight: approx. 80lb Expert Appraisals: In 1985, Dana Hawkes, Head of the Collectibles Department at Sotheby's, appraised the carousel horse at $8,000 to $12,000, later annotating a revised estimate of $15,000 to $18,000 in handwriting on the official letter. Following a complete restoration, Jerry Costello, a well-regarded expert in American carousel art, confirmed the market value at $15,000 to $18,000. Comparable examples of higher intricacy and craftsmanship have sold at auction for $20,000 to $25,000, underscoring the value and desirability of this piece within the collector market. Provenance & Documentation: Original Ownership: Anthony Giaranita, West Dover, Vermont Restoration: Professionally restored in 1987 by The Carousel Works (Bristol, Connecticut); includes original invoice and detailed color analysis Expert Evaluation: Assessed by Jerry Costello, American carousel art dealer and authority Sotheby's Appraisal: Formal letter issued by Dana Hawkes (1985) estimating value up to $18,000, with a noted revision to $15,000 to $18,000

USD 4,000 - 8,000

Title: Paul Rouso (American, b. 1958) "Crumpled £50", 2023, Signed
Description: In 2023, acclaimed American contemporary pop artist Paul Rouso, renowned for his hyperrealistic, large-scale sculptures of crumpled currency, candy wrappers, and printed ephemera, created this striking "Crumpled £50" sculpture. Executed in painted polymer and measuring approx. 19" x 11" x 28 cm, the piece delivers an exceptional level of photorealism, faithfully reproducing every element of the banknote from the portrait of Queen Elizabeth II and intricate security patterns to the serial number AC13 075472. Rouso's distinctive "Flat Depth" technique elevates everyday objects into monumental art. The deliberate folds and creases freeze a moment in time, offering a thought-provoking reflection on value, consumerism, and impermanence. Signed and dated Paul Rouso 2023, this sculpture is part of his highly sought-after currency series, exhibited and collected worldwide.
Material: Painted polymer
