Our Sales Partners can supply your early childhood classrooms with items that will enhance learning, provide storage spaces and furnish items for fun. We represent many suppliers that can provide tables, chairs, wood play, soft play, rugs, and nursery furniture all built with safety, learning and fun in mind.

early childhood

Learning is dynamic and fluid. That's why learning spaces need to be adaptable and responsive to change. With thousands of affordable products that can be acquired quickly, Indoff Sales Partners help create inspiring learning environments that support evolving needs and active minds.

classroom

Choosing the right classroom furniture requires consideration of many factors. One such consideration, which might be overlooked, is the comfort of the teacher and administrator. Furniture that accommodates the teacher and helps them stay organized in turn also helps classes and offices operate smoothly.

Indoff Commercial Interiors Partners have the product knowledge to help you create a computer/tech lab where students can immerse themselves in learning. From solo studying to group collaboration, desks, chairs, and mobile technology, your students are sure to have an enriching experience.

computer/tech lab

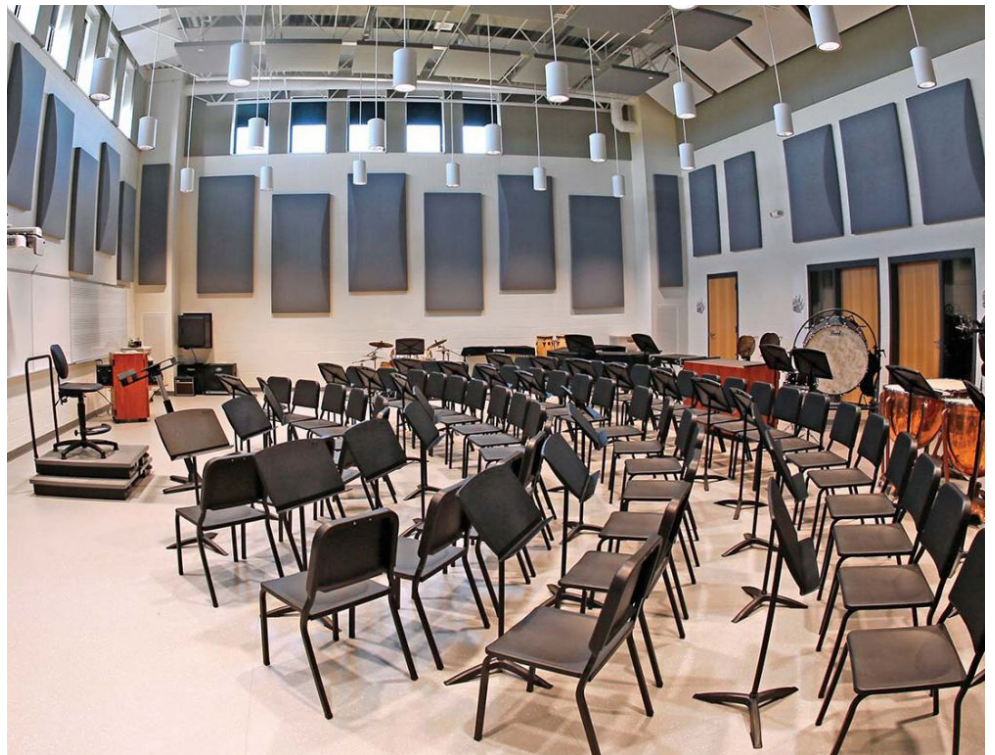

Music makes the world a better place. Music educators know better than anyone that pursuing excellence requires high quality equipment that is durable, dependable, and designed for the daily demands of practice and performance. Indoff Sales Partners will exceed your expectations by providing solutions that are long-lasting and affordable.

performing arts

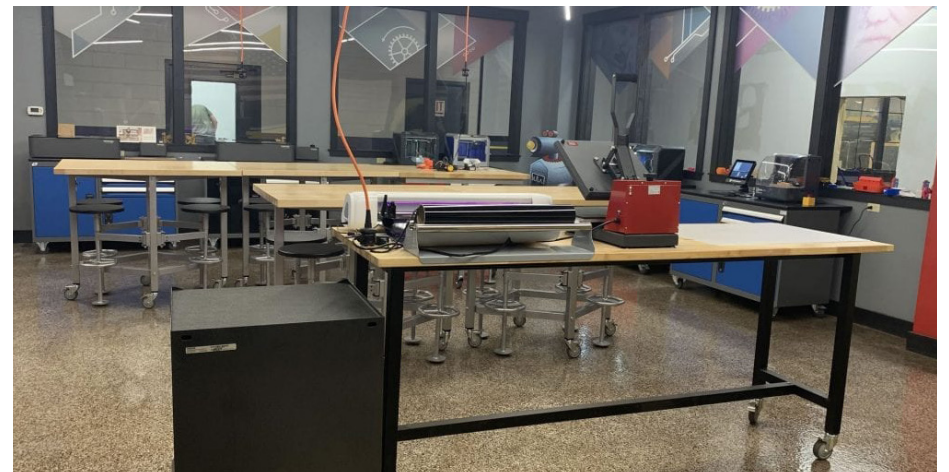

Hands-on learning is a great way to learn. Learning by doing helps your students grasp concepts and fully understand them. Outfit your vocational and industrial arts programs with high-quality floor-to-ceiling products from Indoff's Commercial Interiors division.

vocational arts

Indoff provides the best furniture solutions specifically for STEM and STEAM centered education by offering solutions that can adjust to any needs the classroom may have. Our products not only keep your students comfortable but also provide the flexibility to allow groups to collaborate during projects or separate during testing.

As the popularity of Esports continues to grow many schools are beginning to create their own teams to compete. Comfort and healthy ergonomic practices are key in extending game endurance and performance. Take your team to the next level with Indoff's Commercial Interiors solutions.

esports

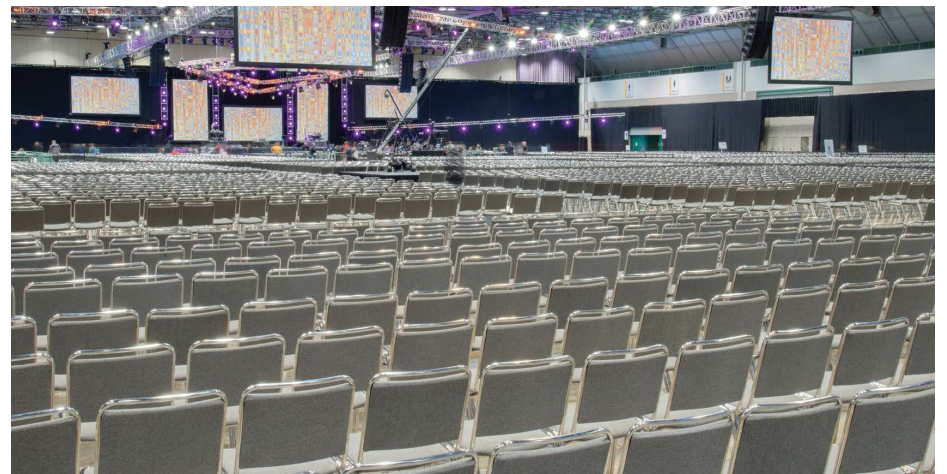

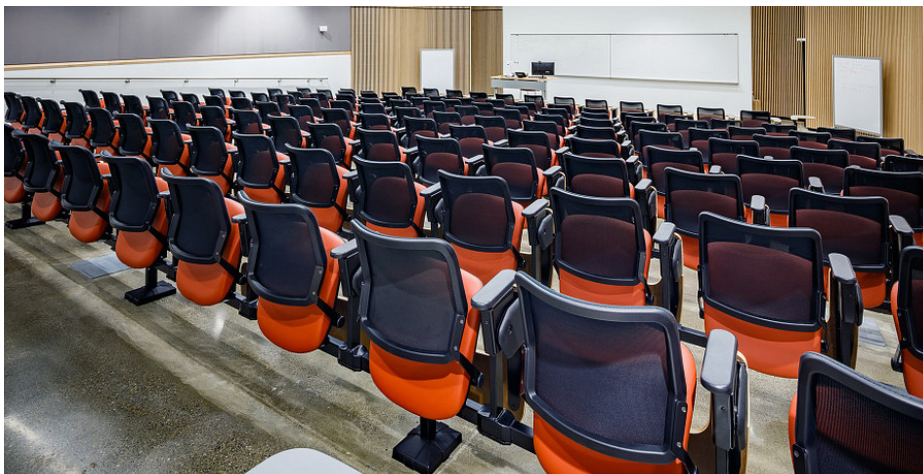

The focus of your audience should be the event occurring on stage, not on the look and feel of your seating. Indoff Partners will work alongside you to not only provide a solution that is comfortable and meets your budget but is also pleasing to the eye and not distracting.

lecture/auditorium

As higher education faces unprecedented change in response to current events, the impact of space on the learning process becomes even more paramount now than ever before. Indoff Sales Partners help learning institutions transform their environments into inspiring spaces that are flexible enough to serve evolving styles of instruction, learning, and interaction.

Students are attracted by the sense of community and vibrancy that comes with residence hall spaces. These spaces are becoming more centralized, open hubs that provide a balance of private nooks for individual focus and casual public areas for informal collaboration.

The furniture includes several colorful armchairs in shades of blue, green, and yellow, arranged in a casual seating area. A pool table is visible in the background, and a brick wall is on the right side. The floor is covered with a patterned carpet. A blue geometric overlay is present on the left side of the image.

Though makerspaces began outside of schools, a growing number of educators have seen the value in creating these kinds of spaces in school media centers and classrooms in recent years. Whether it is a collaboration or dividing solution you are looking for, Indoff's Commercial Interiors Partners have the knowledge and experience to help you.
