Where Solutions Take Shape

Medical waiting room/reception area furniture, also known as healthcare lobby furnishings, are designed to keep patients, including children, feeling welcomed and comfortable while they wait for their appointments. By providing more choices and supporting a range of postures and activities, waiting spaces should be adaptable and productive environments that provide better healthcare experiences.

Exam rooms today require a new type of experience — one that builds on the collaboration between the doctor, patient, and family. Additionally, it needs to be easily cleaned as well as have all the tools needed for the job so doctors can keep up with the high demand of patient flow. Indoff offers solutions for storage, anti-microbial furniture, mobile computer carts, and more so that high levels of productivity can be maintained while providing a healthy environment.
