LLAMELS

These pictures are of the St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church's "Journey to the Manger Live Nativity." Over 300 people came to the outdoor depiction over the two nights, held Dec 18 & 19 at 4:30 PM until 7 PM. Small pods of safely masked people from same families or close units were led through an outdoor wooded trail to five Nativity scenes. At each scene, a narrator read the Bible verses which the scene depicted. Families, many elderly, or fragile (two in wheelchairs) who have only attended on-line services were confident enough to come to this carefully-planned experience and some were so moved they left in joyful tears at being able to safely feel this special opportunity.

Historic Overnight Double Pack Trial

Scott Koenig

This interesting article is from the Llama Journal, Summer 2004

In the mountains of Unicoi County in far-eastern Tennessee the dust has settled on the trail of PLTA's (Pack Llama Trial Association) first ever overnight double pack trial. What do I mean by an overnight double trial? The participants, some more brave than others, hiked a one-way trail on the Saturday of this past Memorial Day weekend ending at a place in the mountains in Unicoi, TN where they set up camp for the night. The next morning we broke camp and started the second pack trial from there, hiking a different trail out with a new set of obstacles.

In the past, the panniers llamas carried on pack trials were filled with dead weight. Items such as sandbags, water bottles, or kitty litter were par for the course. On an overnight trial the panniers are filled with everything the handlers and llamas will need for the weekend. Sand bags and kitty litter are replaced with tents, sleeping bags, food, clothing, single burner stoves, pots & pans, collapsible buckets, and picket lines. In order to keep the pack weight at the PLTA prescribed 15% of the llama's body weight for an advanced trial, many people carried daypacks with a few items to offset the weight the llamas were carrying.

The trail proved to be a bit more strenuous than anticipated, and two of Saturday's entrants decided to skip a section, take the incomplete, and head up to the overnight camp. Sunday morning three more decided to join those two and take the short way out. The remaining four all completed. As this was the first-ever overnight double trial for PLTA, I think it only right that they be named, for it was those four handlers and their llamas who really made this small piece of history. They were Don Holliston leading Crystal River Sunday, Alvin Bean leading Lean Bear, Lance Hardcastle leading Petulant Dilemma, and, in my opinion the bravest of all, Dr. Susan Sterling leading Jamaerah.

Dr. Sterling had never done an advanced pack trial before and skipped out of the basic level to do the overnight. We are all very proud of her. Crystal River Sunday completed his advanced certification on, appropriately, Sunday, and may now be called "Crystal River Sunday APL." The APL stands for Advanced Pack Llama.

As one of the organizers of this historic first, I was concerned about the health and happiness of those who elected to cut things short. Initially, all the participants were planning on doing both the Saturday and Sunday trials. What I learned, which I had not really anticipated, was two-fold. First, adding weight to the backs of the people notably increases the difficulty of the course. And second, for some people the event was camping out, not the trial.

One of the folks who cut the first day short said, after all was done on Sunday, "I never intended to complete the trial. I just wanted to camp out." As far as we can tell, the camping out was a success for all. It did rain Sunday morning, but nature was polite enough to wait until all the tents were packed up so as not to disturb our casual morning. By having this group packing trip, with the added incentive of a pack trial, folks who wanted to pack overnight but were always reticent to venture out on their own found a safe way to get their feet wet.

By all accounts, the overnight double trial was a success, so we should all expect more PLTA events of this type, here and in other parts of the country. It's very exciting to have been the first. However, the real gratification won't come until there are others, and more people who do pack trials can truly be llama packers.

THE LLAMA TRAINER

...BEHOLD, THERE CAME THROUGH THE GATES OF THE CITY A LLAMA TRAINER FROM FAR OFF. AND IT CAME TO PASS AS THE DAYS WENT BY, HE TRAINED HIS LLAMAS PLENTY.....AND IN THAT CITY WERE LAGGARDS AND COMPLAINERS, THEY SPENT THEIR DAYS IN ADDING TO THEIR ALIBI SHEET. MIGHTILY THEY WERE ASTONISHED AT THE PERFORMANCE OF THE STRANGER'S LLAMAS. THEY SAID TO ONE ANOTHER, "WHAT THE HECKETH, HOW DOTHE HE DO IT? HE MUST HAVE EASY LLAMAS TO TRAIN."AND IT CAME TO PASS THAT MANY WERE GATHERED AND A PROPHET CAME AMONG THEM. AND HE WAS ONE WISE GUY. AND THEY QUESTIONED HIM THUSLY, "HOW IS IT THAT THIS STRANGER HAS SUCH WELL-TRAINED LLAMAS?" WHEREUPON THE PROPHET MADE ANSWER, "HE OF WHOM YOU SPEAK IS ONE HUSTLER. HE ARISES VERY EARLY AND GOETH FORTH FULL OF PEP TO TRAIN HIS LLAMAS. HE COMPLAINETH NOT. DOTHE HE DESPAIR. WHILE YOU LIE IN BED AND SAY VERILY, "THIS IS A TERRIBLE DAY TO TRAIN A LLAMA," HE IS ALREADY ABROAD. AND WHEN THE ELEVENTH HOUR COMETH, HE NEEDETH NO ALIBIS.....HE TAKETH WITH HIM TWO ANGELS, PERSISTENCE AND PERSPIRATION, AND WORKETH LIKE HECKETH. VERILY, I SAY UNTO YOU, GO AND DO LIKEWISE.
