Creamy Chicken Rice Casserole

2 cups uncooked Minute Rice

1 - 26 oz can Cream of Chicken Soup

1 - 10-11 oz can of Chicken Broth (water or milk may be used instead)

Add all of the above to your 13 x 9 pan and mix so that all the rice is covered.

3 boneless skinless chicken breasts (abt 2- 2.5 lbs. total)

Cut chicken into slices about 1/2 - 3/4 inch thick.

(Chicken tenders work nicely in this recipe, too. No need to cut up.)

Place chicken on top of the rice and soup mixture. Avoid overlapping the meat.

Sprinkle with salt, pepper & paprika to your liking. (I use season-all salt.)

Add 1 to 2 cups of frozen broccoli pieces in between the chicken - pushing them down into the soup mixture a bit.

Cover with foil and bake at 350 degrees for about 1 hour.

(At 1 hour, test the rice mixture to see if the rice is done and the meat should be at 165 degrees to be done - no pink juice.)

Continue cooking in 5 minute increments if rice and or meat are not done.

When done, uncover the pan and sprinkle 1 1/2 cups of shredded cheddar/jack cheese on top.

You can add more or less cheese if you like.

Cook uncovered for about 5 minutes more or until the cheese is melted and slightly browned.

This is an all-in-one meal so a small salad compliments it nicely.
