DEFINITION OF INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S MONTH

We gather today in honor of Women's Month—a global observance that began more than a century ago when women across nations lifted their voices to declare that their worth, their work, and their witness mattered. What began as a single day in the early 1900s has grown into a month-long celebration of strength, resilience, and brilliance.

We stand in a long line of women who prayed for nations through crisis, who carried families through storms, who birthed movements, ministries, and miracles. And today, we step into that legacy. We gather not just to celebrate women, but to honor the God who graces women—the God who strengthens, restores, rebuilds, and repositions. This month is not simply a cultural observance; it is a spiritual invitation. An invitation for every woman to raise again, dream again, breathe again, and begin again.

NCWF International Women's Month 2026 Life • Love • Legacy

Life • Love • Legacy calls women to awaken to the fullness of who God created them to be, to love with the compassion and courage of Christ, and to recognize that every choice, every act of faith, and every step of obedience is shaping a spiritual inheritance that will outlive them. This theme invites women to pause, reflect, and realign their lives with God's purpose—embracing abundant life, embodying Christlike love in every relationship, and building a legacy that transforms families, communities, and generations to come.

LIFE — Live fully.

Live with intention.

Live with joy.

Live with purpose.

Live with grace.

LOVE — Love deeply.

Love God.

Love yourself.

Love others.

Love boldly.

LEGACY — Leave something behind.

Leave faith.

Leave wisdom.

Leave strength.

Leave an impact.

You are not just living for today.
You are building tomorrow.
