RANMARINE TECHNOLOGY APPOINTS DRONE SOLUTIONS ITS SEA DISTRIBUTOR Announcement made concurrent with the introduction of DataShark Gen2

Rotterdam & Singapore, September 2, 2019 Ranmarine Technology announced today its appointment of Drone Solutions as its Distributor in South East Asia.

Mr. Richard Hardiman, Chief Executive Officer of Ranmarine Technology speaking on the appointment said “the addition of Drone Solutions to professionally represent our interests in South East Asia greatly enhances our technical & customer service, local support and product training capability and efficiency in the region”.

The Executive Director of Drone solutions Mr. Gianluca Salone, noted “our ability to offer Ranmarine’s state-of-the-art environmentally responsible WasteShark solutions which effectively cleans inland and coastal waters of water born debris, microplastics and hazardous oil & chemicals is a great step forward in our fight against senseless water waste pollution enabling Smart Cities”.

About Ranmarine Technology

RanMarine Technology™ is a drone technology company from The Netherlands which specialises in developing and selling remote controlled and autonomous drones called Sharks that swim through water, extracting unwanted material and gathering data about the marine environment.

RanMarine Technology™ markets and sells three distinctive products, which have zero greenhouse emissions and act as intelligent tools to cleaning our waters.

The WasteShark® will eat plastics and other litter; detect chemicals in the water; extract alien and pest vegetation.

The DataShark™ which includes the same functionality as the WasteShark is also a learning machine continually collecting data about the marine environment.

The OilShark™ combines the functionality of the WasteShark along with the capability to collection surface and subsurface oil and other harmful chemicals which it detects.
