Pawcatuck Valley Coin Club News

A Message From our President John Lauderdale:

I was really glad to see our show so successful and the participation of additional folks this year from our club. With all that being said, I will not be seeking reelection as the president of this fantastic club. The reasons are personal as 2022 has been a challenging year. I plan to still be very involved and would like to continue maintaining the website as part of my participation in the club. Additionally I will work to coordinate our presentation to the USS Nautilus museum once I am able to gather more details on when she's coming out of overhaul.

Respectfully,
John Lauderdale

WHAT'S OLD IS NEWS

One Year Type Coins

One year type coins are always popular with collectors and usually priced accordingly. Some well known one year type coins are 1859 Indian Head cent w/o shield, 1853 Seated Quarter & Half Dollar with arrows and rays, 1866/67 Shield Nickel with rays. Mintages are not low by any means, but demand keeps the price much higher than would otherwise be. One surprising bargain is the 1883 no cents Liberty Head Nickel with many available for $20 in AU. It was notoriously known as the Racketeer nickel, plated with gold and passed as $5.

Strike Doubles

In the world of varieties and errors the Double Die takes on an almost legendary status. The famous 1955 Lincoln cent double die can sell for well over $1500.00. Such large premiums can make for frenzied excitement and sometime bad judgment on the part of the unwary collector.

A confusing and common doubling is STRIKE DOUBLING. Sometimes called Machine Doubling a strike double is not a double die as the die is not doubled. The doubling occurs in the strike process. It's a simple matter of a few loose screws in the stamping equipment causing the die to shift slightly as the die come together with the planchet.

This shifting drags metal with it causing a flat shelf like appearance in the devices. True double dies will be more rounded and there maybe a split in the serifs. Strike doubles are common and should not demand a premium.

The Silver Lining

What's up with the economy? The Ukraine war, Covid, Supply Chain shortages, Gas Price crisis, Inflation and lay-offs have some people nervous. Economic uncertainty has gold up over $1850 again. For most the bumps in the road will not have any effect on their wallet. For others that will not be the case. The coin market has been hot for a year now. Key issues setting record prices and new mint products coming out all the time have kept collector and investor interest up.

For some time dealers have been complaining that choice rare coins have been absent from the market. The price of gold and the questionable economic environment could bring those sought after items out of investor/collector safe deposit boxes and back into the market.
