

THE ALPHA REPORT

 alphawoolen.com

WHERE TO FIND ME IN SEPTEMBER

9/12: NAACP Black Agenda Summit

I will join community members, advocates and leaders for a day focused on the issues and priorities that matter to Black communities.

9/20: Delegate Karen Keys-Gamarra Fall Celebration

Featured speakers include Attorney General Jay Jones, Senator Jennifer Boysko, Supervisor Walter Alcorn, and Supervisor Jimmy Bierman. Register today!

A SPECIAL SCREENING OF "A TIME TO YELL"

On August 8th, the special screening of the Emmy Award-winning documentary "A Time to Yell: More Than A Statue" brought the community together for a powerful conversation about history, justice, and the ongoing work of civic courage. Panelists Dr. Wes Bellamy and Tony Lewis, Jr. offered thoughtful reflections that challenged attendees to think deeply about legacy, leadership, and the responsibility we carry forward.

FAIRFAX CITY COUNCIL CANDIDATES

In August, I interviewed Stacy Hall and Rachel McQuillen (pictured), candidates for Fairfax City Council on "Inside Scoop". The discussions gave voters an opportunity to hear directly from those seeking to serve. Our conversations covered their priorities, experience, and vision for Fairfax City. Local elections shape everyday life, and thoughtful candidate conversations help residents stay informed, engaged, and ready to participate.

Before You Vote: Understanding Virginia's Three Constitutional Amendments

Monday, August 31 at 8 PM | YouTube  @ Inside Scoop TV | Fairfax Public Access Channel 10

UNDERSTANDING NOVEMBER'S BALLOT

On August 31st, I moderated a timely discussion on the three proposed amendments to Virginia's Constitution. Hosted by the League of Women Voters, our guests, Delegate Charniele Herring, Delegate Rozia Henson, and Attorney Latigdra Brown, helped explain what each question means, what could change if passed, and why state constitutional protections matter. Conversations like these help voters move beyond the ballot language and make informed decisions at the polls.