COMPANY BACKGROUND:

In 1995, FB LAZARO CONSTRUCTION, indulged in general construction, and expanded into complete conceptualized designing and supply under PORTABLE STRUCTURES TRADING. Both companies had focused themselves in the field of engineering and designs. Over the years, the two entities were able to prove themselves by constantly developing their expertise and resources thru skills, additional training and enhancement aimed towards client's satisfaction.

Early 2017, a big leap was decided, when the two organizations expanded and merged to form INGENIUM WERKS CORPORATION, a Cebu-based construction firm organized in March 2017. It is 100% Filipino-owned and duly registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission under SEC Reg. No. CS201707949 dated March 17, 2017. The move to incorporate was geared to increase efficiency and admit additional capitalization.

Come 2020, the corporation come into full circle. Its engineering and construction continues to reach new heights in both private and government projects. It has formed a more direct and focus team for MEPF (Mechanical, Electrical, Plumbing and Fire Protection).

Power and Utilities to assist hotel and building owners on managing its energy consumption and efficiency on its usage. We also partnered with renewable energy developers to make sure that the power of future is sustainable.

With the pandemic, we have seen the challenges and the difficulty of the construction workforce thus we develop MY HANDYMAN – a service application focus repair and maintenance or facilities management. This App will help displace workforce and bridge between the need and the service provider.

The trading division is the support team for the services we are providing. To be able to sustain and maintain cost effectiveness is to have ample construction supplies and trading it as well. Cebu Construction online is our gateway in trading our products.

The corporation's philosophy is "focus on client's interest ahead of its own". After all, we know our own success will come from helping our clients succeed. We aim to keep a low profile and let our work speak for us.

We have built a company, and it is now our challenge to maintain its integrity and continue to provide superior services to our clients.

Our company is strengthened by the continued trust and support from our clients, business partners and principals. Their trust and confidence in us will propel us towards success.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of INGENIUM WERKS CORPORATION ("the Company"), which comprise the statements of financial position as at December 31, 2024, and the statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity and statements of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2024 and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRSs).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with Philippine Standards on Auditing (PSAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants in the Philippines (Code of Ethics) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the Philippines, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with PFRSs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with PSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with PSAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

► Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

*Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements of INGENIUM WERKS CORPORATION including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation. We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

*Report on the Supplementary Information Required Under Revenue Regulations 15-2010 and Revenue Regulation 19-2011

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The supplementary information on taxes, duties and license fees to the financial statements is presented for purposes of filing with the Bureau of Internal Revenue and is not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements. In our opinion, the information is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these interim financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented unless otherwise stated.

Basis of Preparation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared on a fair value measurement. The financial statements are presented in Philippine pesos, which is the Company's functional currency. All amounts are rounded to the nearest Philippine peso, except when otherwise indicated.

The company applied Section 35 (Transition to the PFRS for SMEs) in preparing the Financial Statements, with January 1, 2009 as the date of transition.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplate the realization of assets and settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business.

Statement of Compliance

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Philippine Financial Reporting Standards (PFRS) for Small and Medium sized Entities (SMEs).

Accounting Policies Adopted

The following sections that have been published by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and adopted by the FRSC which became effective for accounting periods beginning on or after July 1, 2009 were adopted by the Company:

Section 3	-	Financial Statement Presentation
Section 4	-	Statement of Financial Position
Section 5	-	Statement of Comprehensive Income and Income Statement
Section 6	-	Statement of Changes in Equity
Section 7	-	Statement of Cash Flows
Section 8	-	Notes to the Financial Statements
Section 10	-	Accounting Policies, Estimates and Errors
Section 11	-	Basic Financial Instruments
Section 13	-	Inventories
Section 17	-	Property and Equipment
Section 20	-	Leases
Section 21	-	Provisions and Contingencies
Section 22	-	Liabilities and Equity
Section 23	-	Revenue
Section 25	-	Borrowing Costs
Section 27	-	Impairment of Assets
Section 28	-	Employee Benefits
Section 32	-	Events after the End of the Reporting Period
Section 33	-	Related Party Disclosures
Section 35	-	Transition to the PFRS for SMEs

The adoption of the above sections, upon which the Company has opted to adopt early, did not have any significant effect on the Company's financial statements. These, however, require additional disclosures on the Company's financial statements.

Section 3, "Financial Statement Presentation", explains fair presentation of financial statements, what compliance with the PFRS for SMEs requires, and what a complete set of financial statements is. This section prescribes the basis for presentation of general purpose financial statements for SMEs to ensure comparability both with the entity's financial statements of previous periods and with the financial statements of other entities. It sets out overall requirements for the presentation of financial statements, guidelines for their structure and minimum requirements for their content.

Section 4, "Statement of Financial Position", sets out the information that is to be presented in a statement of financial position and how to present it. The statement of financial position (sometimes called the balance sheet) presents an entity's assets, liabilities and equity as of a specific date—the end of the reporting period and provides the minimum line items that should be included in the statement of financial position, however, additional line items, heading and subtotals shall be presented if they will be relevant to an understanding of the entity's financial position.

Section 5, "Statement of Comprehensive Income and Income Statement" requires an entity to present its total comprehensive income for a period—ie its financial performance for the period—in one or two financial statements. It sets out the information that is to be presented in those statements and how to present it.

Section 6, "Statement of Changes in Equity", sets out requirements for presenting the changes in an entity's equity or a period, either in a statement of changes in equity or, if specified conditions are met and an entity chooses, in a statement of income and retained earnings.

Section 7, "Statement of Cash Flows", sets out the information that is to be presented in a statement of cash flows and how to present it. The statement of cash flows provides information about the changes in cash and cash equivalents of an entity for a reporting period, showing separately changes from operating activities, investing activities and financing activities.

Section 8, "Notes to the Financial Statements", sets out the principles underlying information that is to be presented in the notes to the financial statements and how to present it. Notes provide narrative descriptions or disaggregations of items presented in those statements and information about items that do not qualify for recognition in those statements. In addition to the requirements of this section, nearly every other section of this PFRS requires disclosures that are normally presented in the notes.

Section 10, "Accounting Policies, Estimates and Errors", provides guidance for selecting and applying the accounting policies used in preparing financial statements. It also covers changes in accounting estimates and corrections of errors in prior period financial statements.

Section 11, "Basic Financial Instruments", deals with recognizing, measuring and disclosing basic financial instruments and is relevant to all entities. An entity shall recognize a financial asset or a financial liability only when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. When a financial asset or financial liability is recognized initially, an entity shall measure it at the transaction price unless the arrangement constitutes, in effect, a financing transaction.

Section 13, "Inventories", prescribes policies for recognizing and measuring inventories and provides guidance in determination cost and subsequent recognition as expense. An entity shall measure inventories at the lower of cost and estimated selling price less costs to complete and sell.

Section 17, "Property and Equipment", prescribes the accounting treatment for property equipment so that users of the financial statements can discern information about an entity's investment in its property and equipment and the changes in such investment. The principal issues in accounting for property and equipment are the recognition of the assets, the determination of their carrying amounts and the depreciation charges and impairment losses to be recognized in relation to them. An entity shall measure an item of property and equipment at initial recognition at its cost. The cost of an item of property and equipment is the cash price equivalent at the recognition date. If payment is deferred beyond normal credit terms, the cost is the present value of all future payments.

Section 20, "Leases", applies to agreements that transfer the right to use assets even though substantial services by the lessor may be called for in connection with the operation or maintenance of such assets. This section does not apply to agreements that are contracts for services that do not transfer the right to use assets from one contracting party to the other. Its objective is to prescribe, for lessees and lessors, the appropriate accounting policies and disclosure to apply in relation to leases.

Section 21, "Provisions and Contingencies", outlines the recognition of provision only when: (a) the entity has an obligation at the reporting date as a result of a past event; (b) it is probable (ie more likely than not) that the entity will be required to transfer economic benefits in settlement; and (c) the amount of the obligation can be estimated reliably. Its objective is to ensure that appropriate recognition criteria and measurement bases are applied to provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets and that sufficient information is disclosed in the notes to enable users to understand their nature, timing and amount.

Section 22, "Liabilities and Equity", establishes principles for classifying financial instruments as either liabilities or equity and addresses accounting for equity instruments issued to individuals or other parties acting in their capacity as investors in equity instruments (ie in their capacity as owners).

Section 23, "Revenue", prescribes the accounting treatment of revenue arising from certain types of transactions and events. The primary issue in accounting for revenue is determining when to recognize revenue. Revenue is recognized when it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity and these benefits can be measured reliably. This section identifies the circumstances in which these criteria will be met and, therefore, revenue will be recognized. It also provides practical guidance on the application of these criteria. An entity shall measure revenue at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable.

Section 25, "Borrowing Costs", specifies the accounting for borrowing costs. Borrowing costs are interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. An entity shall recognize all borrowing costs as an expense in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Section 27, "Impairment of Assets", prescribes the procedures that an entity applies to ensure that its assets are carried at no more than their recoverable amount if its carrying amount exceeds the amount to be recovered through use of or sale of the asset. If this is the case, the asset is described to be impaired and the standard requires the entity to recognize an impairment loss.

Section 28, "Employee Benefits", deals with accounting and reporting by the plan to all participants as a group. It does not deal with reports to individual participants about their retirement benefit rights. An entity shall recognize the cost of all employee benefits to which its employees have become entitled as a result of service rendered to the entity during the reporting period: (a) as a liability (b) as an expense. This section shall be applied in the financial statements of retirement benefit plans where such financial statements are prepared.

Section 32, "Events after the End of the Reporting Period", defines events after the end of the reporting period and sets out principles for recognizing, measuring and disclosing those events. Events after the end of the reporting period are those events, favorable and unfavorable, that occur between the end of the reporting period and the date when the financial statements are authorized for issue. Its objective is to prescribe: (a) when an entity should adjust its financial statements for events after the reporting period; and (b) the disclosures that an entity should give about the date when the financial statements were authorized for issue and about events after the reporting period. It also requires that an entity should not prepare its financial statements on a going concern basis if events after the reporting period indicate that the going concern assumption is not appropriate.

Section 33, "Related Party Disclosures", requires an entity to include in its financial statements the disclosures necessary to draw attention to the possibility that its financial position and profit or loss have been affected by the existence of related parties and by transactions and outstanding balances with such parties. An entity shall disclose key management personnel compensation

Section 35, "Transition to the PFRS for SMEs", applies to a first-time adopter of the PFRS for SMEs, regardless of whether its previous accounting framework was full PFRSs or another set of generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) such as its national accounting standards, or another framework such as the local income tax basis.

The significant sections and practices of the Company are set forth to facilitate the understanding of the financial statements:

Financial Assets

Financial assets include Cash and Cash Equivalents.

Cash

Cash includes cash on hand and in bank. Cash on hand as of the end of the period were deposited the next banking day. Cash in banks are deposits held at call with banks. The company reconciles the books and bank balances regularly as part of its cash monitoring and internal control measures.

Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and estimated selling price less costs to sell. Cost of inventories includes all costs of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Periodic system is the accounting used for the company's inventories. The cost of inventories is determined using the First-In-First-Out (FIFO) method.

Other Current Assets

Other current assets include prepaid supplies which are valued at the lower of cost or net realizable value. It also includes prepayments such as prepaid expenses that are initially recorded at transaction cost and subsequently measured at cost less impairment loss, if any.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are measured initially at its cost. Property and equipment, after initial recognition are stated at cost less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The initial cost of property and equipment, comprises its purchase price and any cost directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management. These can include the costs of initial delivery and handling, installation and assembly, and testing of functionality.

The following costs are not costs of an item of property and equipment, and the entity recognized them as an expense when they are incurred: costs of opening a new facility, costs of introducing a new product or service (including costs of advertising and promotional activities), costs of conducting business in a new location or with a new class of customer (including costs of staff training), administration and other general overhead costs and borrowing costs.

For financial reporting purposes, duties and taxes related to the acquisition of property and equipment are capitalized. For income tax reporting purposes, such duties and taxes are treated as deductible expenses in the year these charges are incurred.

For financial reporting purposes, depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets.

If there is an indication that there has been a significant change since the last annual reporting date in the pattern by which an entity expects to consume an asset's future economic benefits, the entity shall review its present depreciation method and, if current expectations differ, change the depreciation method to reflect the new pattern. The entity shall account for the change as a change in an accounting estimate.

Factors such as a change in how an asset is used, significant unexpected wear and tear, technological advancement, and changes in market prices may indicate that the residual value or useful life of an asset has changed since the most recent annual reporting date. If such indicators are present, an entity shall review its previous estimates and, if current expectations differ, amend the residual value, depreciation method or useful life. The entity shall account for the change in residual value, depreciation method or useful life as a change in an accounting estimate.

An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on derecognition of an item of property and equipment is recognized in profit or loss when the item is derecognized (unless Section 20 Leases requires otherwise on a sale and leaseback) such gain is not recognized as revenue.

For income tax reporting purposes, depreciation is computed using the straight-line method.

Other Noncurrent Assets

Other noncurrent assets include Program Development, Tax Refundable, and Investment in FAPE that are initially recorded at transaction cost and subsequently measured at cost less impairment loss, if any.

Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value.

Financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial liabilities include Trade and Other Payables.

Trade and Other Payables

Trade payables are liabilities to pay for goods or services that have been received or supplied and have been invoiced or formally agreed with the supplier.

Other Payables include payables to affiliate, professional fees, accrued expenses and rent expense payable.

Trade and other payables are initially recorded at transaction price and subsequently measured at their cost less settlement payments.

Other Current liabilities

Other current liabilities include statutory obligation as of the end of the period such VAT payable, income tax payable and withholding tax payable.

Loans payable

Loans payable are long-term borrowings measured at their fair values and subsequently recognized at amortized costs less settlement payments.

Non-Current Liabilities

Non-current liabilities represent account payable-others and miscellaneous deposit which initially recorded at transaction price and subsequently measured at their cost less settlement payments.

Financial Instruments

Date of Recognition

The Company recognizes a financial asset or a financial liability in the balance sheets when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Initial Recognition of Financial Instruments

All financial assets are initially recognized at fair value.

Determination of Fair Value

For all other financial instruments not listed in an active market, the fair value is determined by using appropriate valuation techniques. Valuation techniques include net present value techniques, comparison to similar instruments for which market observable prices exist, options pricing models, and other relevant valuation models.

Impairment of Financial Assets

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired. A financial asset or a group of financial assets is deemed to be impaired if, and only if, there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that has occurred after the initial recognition of the asset (an incurred 'loss event') and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or the group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated. Evidence of impairment may include indications that the borrower or a group of borrowers is experiencing significant financial difficulty, default or delinquency in interest or principal payments, the probability that they will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization and where observable data indicate that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows, such as changes in arrears or economic conditions that correlate with defaults.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred). The carrying amount of the asset is reduced through use of an allowance account and the amount of loss is charged to the statement of income. Interest income continues to be recognized based on the original effective interest rate of the asset. Loans, together with the associated allowance accounts, are written off when there is no realistic prospect of future recovery and all collateral has been realized. If, in a subsequent year, the amount of the estimated impairment loss decreases because of an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed. Any subsequent reversal of an impairment loss is recognized in profit or loss, to the extent that the carrying value of the asset does not exceed its amortized cost at the reversal date.

For the purpose of a collective evaluation of impairment, financial assets are grouped on the basis of such credit risk characteristics as industry, past-due status and term.

Future cash flows in a group of financial assets that are collectively evaluated for impairment are estimated on the basis of historical loss experience for assets with credit risk characteristics similar to those in the group. Historical loss experience is adjusted on the basis of current observable data to reflect the effects of current conditions that did not affect the period on which the historical loss experience is based and to remove the effects of conditions in the historical period that do not exist currently. The methodology and assumptions used for estimating future cash flows are reviewed regularly by the Company to reduce any differences between loss estimates and actual loss experience.

The Company first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for financial assets that are individually significant. If it is determined that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individual asset with similar credit risk characteristics and that group of financial assets is collectively assessed for impairment. Assets that are individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is or continues to be recognized are not included in a collective assessment or impairment.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed. Any subsequent reversal of an impairment loss is recognized in the statements of income, to the extent that the carrying value of the asset does not exceed its amortized cost at the reversal date.

Derecognition of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

Financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable a part of financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized when:

- the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired;
- the Company retains the right to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a pass-through arrangement; or
- the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled or expired. Where an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability, and the difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the statement of income.

Offsetting Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the balance sheet if, and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. This is not generally the case with master netting agreements, and the related assets and liabilities are presented gross in the balance sheet.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the balance sheet if, and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. This is not generally the case with master netting agreements, and the related assets and liabilities are presented gross in the balance sheet.

Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

The Company assesses as at reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use or its net selling price and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Impairment losses are recognized in the statements of income in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is an indication that previously recognized impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. If that is the case, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to its recoverable amount. That increased amount cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation and amortization, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the statements of income unless the asset is carried at revalued amount, in which case the reversal is treated as revaluation increase. After such a reversal, the depreciation charge is adjusted in future periods to allocate the asset's revised carrying amount, less any residual value, on a systematic basis over its remaining useful life.

Provisions and Contingencies

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation, either legal or constructive, as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and the amount of the obligation can be estimated reliably. When the Company expects reimbursement of some or all of the expenditure required to settle a provision, the entity recognizes a separate asset for the reimbursement only when it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received when the obligation is settled.

The amount of the provision recognized is the best estimated of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the balance sheet date, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. When a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows.

Provisions are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate.

Contingent liabilities and assets are not recognized because their existence will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the entity. Contingent liabilities, if any, are disclosed, unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent assets are disclosed only when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Total Equity

Total equity comprises of contributed capital, and cumulative fund.

Contributed Capital

Contributed capital is determined by the actual payment of subscription by the incorporators.

Cumulative Fund Balances

Cumulative fund balances include all current and prior period results as disclosed in the statement of revenue and expenses.

Comprehensive Income

Comprehensive income includes revaluation surplus, that are closed to the company's cumulative earnings.

Revenue and cost recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of revenue can be reliably measured. However, when an uncertainty arises about the collectability of an amount already included in the revenue, the uncollectible amount, or the amount in respect of which recovery has ceased to be probable, is recognized as an expense, rather than as an adjustment of the amount of revenue originally recognized

Cost, distribution, administrative and finance cost are recognized in the statement of income upon utilization of the service or in the date they are incurred

Employees' Compensation and Other Benefits

Short-term Benefits

The Company recognizes a liability net of amounts already paid and an expense for services rendered by employees during the accounting period. Short-term benefits given by the Company to its employees include salaries and wages, social security contributions, short-term compensated absences, bonuses and other non-monetary benefits, if any

Long-term Benefits

The Company provides retirement benefits to entitled employees equivalent to the provision mandated by law, if any.

Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs are generally expensed as incurred.

Income Taxes

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred income tax, if any, is provided, using the balance sheet liability method, on all temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred income tax liabilities, if any, are recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred income tax assets are recognized for all deductible temporary differences and carry forward benefits of unused net operating loss carryover (NOLCO), to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and carry forward of NOLCO can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets, if any, is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilized. Unrecognized deferred tax assets are reassessed at each balance date and are recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax asset and liabilities, if any, are measured at the tax rates expected in the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

Leases

A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership. A lease is classified as an operating lease if it does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership. Operating lease payment are recognized as expense in the statement of income on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Retirement Costs

The Foundation has a defined benefit retirement plan covering substantially all qualified employees. The obligation and costs of retirement benefits of The Foundation are actuarially computed by professionally qualified independent actuary using projected unit credit method. Actuarial gains or losses are immediately recognized as income or expense when the net cumulative unrecognized actuarial gains or losses for the plan at the end of the previous period exceed 10% of the defined benefit obligation at that date. These gains and losses are recognized over the expected average remaining working lives of the employees participating in the plan.

The defined benefit liability is the aggregate of the present value of the defined benefit obligation and actuarial losses recognized. Transitional liability is the difference, as of the date The Foundation initially applied PAS 19, between the amounts of the present value of the obligation and the fair market value of fund assets, if any, minus any past service cost.

Actuarial valuations are made with sufficient regularity that the amounts recognized in the financial statements do not differ materially from the amounts that would be determined at financial reporting date.

Events After the End of the Reporting Period

Post-year-end events up to the date of the auditor's report that provide additional information about the Company's position at the balance sheet date (adjusting events) are reflected in the financial statements. Post-year-end events that are not adjusting events are disclosed in the notes to financial statements when material.

Related Party Disclosures

Related party relationships exist when one party has the ability to control, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. This includes: (1) individual owning, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control, or are controlled by, or under common control with, the Company; (2) associates; and (3) individuals owning, directly or indirectly, an interest in the voting power of the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company and close members of the family of any such individual.

The key management personnel of the Company and post-employment benefit plans for the benefit of Company's employees, if any, are also considered to be related parties

The Company's related parties include the Company's Key Management. The compensation of the key management personnel of the Company pertains to the usual monthly salaries and government mandated bonuses; there are no other special benefits paid to management personnel.

3. MANAGEMENT'S SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of the Company's financial statements in conformity with Financial Reporting Framework (in reference to the Philippine Financial Reporting Standards) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the Company's financial statements and accompanying notes. The estimates and assumptions used in the Company's financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as of the date of the Company's financial statements. Actual results could differ from such estimates.

Judgments

The preparation of the Company's financial statements in conformity with Financial Reporting Framework in reference to the Philippine Financial Reporting Standards requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the Company's financial statements and accompanying notes. The estimates and assumptions used in the Company's financial statements are based upon management's evaluation of relevant facts and circumstances as of the date of the Company's financial statements. Actual results could differ from such estimates, judgments and estimates are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Determining Functional Currency

Based in economic substance of underlying circumstances relevant to the Company, the functional currency has been determined to be the Philippine peso, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates and is the currency that mainly influences the prices of the products and services and the cost of providing such products and services.

Repairs and maintenance

Repairs and maintenance incurred by the Company have not resulted in an increase in the future economic benefit of its property and equipment, therefore charged to operations.

Estimates

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, management is required to make judgments, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

The following represents a summary of the significant estimates and judgments and related impact and associated risks in the Company's financial statements.

Estimated allowance for doubtful accounts

The Company maintains allowances for doubtful accounts, if any, at a level considered adequate to provide for potential uncollectible receivables. The level of this allowance is evaluated by management on the basis of factors that affects the collectability of the accounts. These factors included, but not limited to, the length of the Company's relationship with the customer, the customer's payment behavior and known market factors. The Company reviews the age and status of receivables, and identifies accounts that are to be provided with allowances on a continuous basis.

The amount and timing of recorded expenses for any period would differ if the Company made different judgments or utilized different estimates. An increase in allowance for doubtful accounts would increase the recorded operating expenses and decrease current assets.

Evaluation of asset impairment

The Company assesses the impairment of assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The factors that the Company considers important which could trigger an impairment review include significant changes in asset usage, significant decline in assets' market value and obsolescence or physical damage of an asset. If such indications are present and where the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and value in use. The net selling price is the amount obtainable from the sale of an asset in an arm's length transaction while value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of an asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Recoverable amounts are estimated for individual assets or, if it is not possible, for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In determining the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to be generated from the continued use of the assets, the Company is required to make estimates and assumptions that may affect property and equipment.

Estimating useful lives of property and equipment

If there is an indication that there has been a significant change since the last annual reporting date in the pattern by which an entity expects to consume an asset's future economic benefits, the entity shall review its present depreciation method and, if current expectations differ, change the depreciation method to reflect the new pattern. The entity shall account for the change as a change in an accounting estimate

Factors such as a change in how an asset is used, significant unexpected wear and tear, technological advancement, and changes in market prices may indicate that the residual value or useful life of an asset has changed since the most recent annual reporting date. If such indicators are present, an entity shall review its previous estimates and, if current expectations differ, amend the residual value, depreciation method or useful life. The entity shall account for the change in residual value, depreciation method or useful life as a change in an accounting estimate

Depreciation is computed on a straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Lease Hold Improvement	5-10 years
Office Equipment	5 years
Furniture and Fixtures	5 years

Fair Value of Property and Equipment

The Property and Equipment is stated at revalued amount based on the fair value of the property. The valuation was made on the basis of the fair market value determined by referring to the character and utility of the property, and comparable property which has been sold recently in the locality where the property is located. Management believes that the basis of the fair value is reasonable.

Financial assets and liabilities

The Company requires certain financial assets and liabilities to be at fair value, which requires use of extensive accounting estimates and judgments. While significant components of fair value measurement were determined using verifiable objective evidence (i.e. interest and volatility rates), the amount of changes in fair value would differ if the Company utilized different valuation methodologies. Any changes in fair value of these financial assets and liabilities would affect directly the statements of income and equity, as appropriate

Impairment of Non-financial Assets

The Company assesses the value of property and equipment which require the determination of future cash flows expected to be generated from the continued use and ultimate disposition of such assets, and require the Company to make estimates and assumptions that can materially affect the financial statements. Future events could cause the Company to conclude that property and equipment and other long-lived assets are impaired. Any resulting impairment loss could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial condition and results of operations

The preparation of the estimated future cash flows involves significant judgment and estimations. While the Company believes that its assumptions are appropriate and reasonable, significant changes in these assumptions may materially affect the Company's assessment of recoverable values and may lead to future additional impairment charges.

Prepaid Retirement Costs

The determination of the Company's retirement cost is dependent on selection of certain assumptions used by the actuary in calculating such amount. Those assumptions are described and include, among others, annual interest rates, rates of future salary increase, number of plan members and average remaining working lives of employees. In accordance with PAS 19, actual results that differ from Company's assumptions are accumulated over future periods and therefore, generally affect the reasonable and appropriate, significant differences in the Company's actual experience or significant changes in the assumptions may materially affect the retirement obligation.

Revenue recognition

The Company's revenue recognition policies require the use of estimates and assumptions that may affect the reported amounts of revenues and receivables. Differences between the amounts initially recognized and actual settlements are taken up in the accounts upon reconciliation. However, there is no assurance that such use of estimates may not result to material adjustments in future periods.

4. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

Financial Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The main purpose of the Company's principal financial instruments is to fund its operational and capital expenditures. The Company's risk management is coordinated and in close operation with the Board of Trustees, and focuses on actively securing the Company's short to medium term cash flows by minimizing the exposure to financial markets

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's overall risk management program seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Company. The policies for managing specific risks are summarized below.

Management of Financial Risk

Governance Framework

The Company has established a risk management function with clear terms of reference and with the responsibility for developing policies on market, credit, liquidity and operational risk. It also supports the effective implementation of policies.

The policies define the Company's identification of risk and its interpretation, limit structure to ensure the appropriate quality and diversification of assets to the corporate goals and specify reporting requirements.

Capital Management Framework

The Company's capital management objectives are to ensure the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. The Company monitors the basis of the carrying amount of equity as presented on the face of the balance sheet

The Company's risk management function has developed and implemented certain minimum stress and scenario tests for identifying the risks to which the Company are exposed, quantifying their impact on the volatility of economic capital. The results of these tests, particularly, the anticipated impact on the realistic balance sheet and revenue account, are reported to the Company's risk management function. The risk management function then considers the aggregate impact of the overall capital requirement revealed by the stress testing to assess how much capital is needed to mitigate the risk of insolvency to a selected remote level

The Company considers its capitalization contributed by stockholders as capital.

Authorized Capital Stock	100,000.00
Subscribed Capital Stock	100,000.00
Paid Up Capital	100,000.00
Par Value	P 100.00/ share

Regulatory Framework

The operations of the Company are also subject to the regulatory requirements of SEC. Such regulations not only prescribe approval and monitoring of activities but also impose certain restrictive provisions

Financial Risk

The Company is also exposed to financial risk through its financial assets and financial liabilities. The most important components of the financial risks are credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk

Credit risk

The Company's credit risk is primarily attributable to its trade and other receivables from its tenants. Credit risk is managed primarily through credit reviews and an analysis of receivables on continuous basis. The company also undertakes supplemental credit review procedures for certain installment payment structures. Tenants payments are facilitated various collection modes. There is no objective evidence yet to set provision for impairment.

The Company's credit risk is primarily attributable to its accounts receivables and other receivables, if any. The Company has adopted stringent procedure in extending credit terms to customers and in monitoring its credit risk.

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss.

The Company manages the level of credit risk it accepts through comprehensive credit risk policy setting out assessment and determination of what constitutes credit risk for the Company; setting up exposure limits by each counterparty or group of counterparties, geographical and industry segments; guidelines on obtaining collateral and guarantees; reporting of credit risk exposures and breaches to the monitoring authority; monitoring compliance with credit risk policy and review of credit risk policy for pertinence and changing environment.

Receivable balances are being monitored on a regular basis to ensure timely execution of necessary intervention efforts.

The table below shows the maximum exposure to credit risk for the components of the 2024 statements of financial position. The maximum exposure is shown gross, without taking into account collateral and other credit enhancement.

	Gross Maximum Exposure
	2024	2023
Cash on hand and in Bank	5,250,240	3,647,936

Trade and Other Receivables	4,359,766	5,286,400
TOTAL	9,610,005.14	8,934,336.00

The aging analyses of financial assets as of December 31, 2024 that were past due but not impaired are as follows:

	Neither Past Due nor Impaired	31-60days	61-90days	More than 90days	Total
Cash	5,250,239.54				5,250,240
Trade and Other Receivables					5,286,400
TOTAL	5,250,239.54				10,536,639.54

The Company's financial assets which are neither past due nor impaired include cash to counterparty with good credit rating or bank standing, and receivables from tenants.

Allowance for doubtful accounts is computed for age receivables over the estimated percentage of uncollectibility of the accounts receivables as follows:

Neither past due nor impaired	1%
31-60 days	2%
61-90 days	3%
More than 90 days	5%

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity or funding risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in raising funds to meet commitments associated with financial instruments. Liquidity risk may result from either the inability to sell financial assets quickly at their fair values; or counterparty failing on repayment of contractual obligation; or inability to generate cash inflows as anticipated.

The Company maintains cash to meet its liquidity requirements for up to 30-day periods and the Company maintains adequate highly liquid assets in the form of cash. Funding for long-term liquidity needs is additionally secured by an adequate amount of committed credit facilities

The Company monitors its cash flow position and overall liquidity position in assessing its exposure to liquidity risk. The Company maintains a level of cash deemed sufficient to finance operations and to mitigate the effects of fluctuation in cash flows and a balance between continuity of funding and flexibility through the use of bank loans and advances from related parties, if there's any

The table below summarizes the maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities at December 31, 2021 based on contractual undiscounted payments.

Other Current Liability
	-	-	-	-

The fair values of trade and other payables have not been individually disclosed as, due to their short duration, management considers the carrying amounts recognized in the statements of financial position to be reasonable approximation of their fair values.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of change in fair value of financial instruments from fluctuation in foreign exchange rates (currency risks), market interest rates (interest rate risk) and market prices (price risk)
