* Final times that are .5 seconds or less difference between competitors is considered statistically insignificant due to minor variations in the technologies used. .5 seconds or less are considered ties, and Uncle Joe's is the tie breaker.

NOTE: If you have a picture copy of your scores and your calculations come up different than mine, email me. It is definitely possible for me to have a spreadsheet miscalculation. Occasionally, I find minor issues and corrections are reflected in the newest spreadsheet. Also, factor in that I may need to make adjustments, for human error like I did not hit both sim start buttons at the same time.
