

What would you take on your grief adventure?

List or draw everything that helps you travel through life without your person who died...

