Sample Excerpt 1

In front of others, Mei-Mei felt self-conscious and shy. For her family were elegant fliers, who soared high in the sky. They flew with flits and flutters as graceful as one can be. Mei-Mei's family led by example, for all fairies to see.

Sample Excerpt 2

The next day, Mei-Mei felt brave and so very proud. Practicing her new skills and singing out loud. She flew past other fairies, as they watched her go by. Whispers on their lips, some with an envious eye.

Sample Excerpt 3

Mei-Mei practiced harder in the meadow - with all her might. Ms. Hoo, the wise old owl, watched her with delight. "Why are you flying like that?" Ms. Hoo asked with concern. Mei-Mei didn't really know why - her mind started to churn.
