Sample Excerpt 1

Sometimes Vicky would lie in bed...
Whispers of doubt filling her head.

But Vicky didn't know...

That her mirror shimmered soft and bright.
Soon to reflect wonders in its light.

Sample Excerpt 2

The mirror decided to play and shine.
And what it revealed was truly divine.

It showed the baker juggling pies.
The mayor with a wig twice his size.

The teacher danced atop her desk,
The postman wore a tutu, quite picturesque.

Sample Excerpt 3

Through the mirrors gaze, the townsfolk could see...
That their unique inner lights were meant to be free.
