The Link

1980 truly began a new era for mankind and with the beginning of this period new products and information that had been in the making for years became reality as the world was ready for it. One such revolutionary idea that in January of this year became available to both laymen and professionals was Dr. Pat Flanagan's Neurophone. What an experience! For our readers who are ready to "soar" into the Space-Age, the Neurophone is for you!

The following is condensed from the research work done by Dr. Flanagan and Dr. Sheldon Deal of Tucson, AZ.

What is it, is the next thing! The Neurophone MK XI, is an electronic hearing device intended for stimulating the nervous system with an electric field to produce auditory sensations. It consists of electronic circuitry into which audio signals from a microphone, recorder, etc. may be fed, and a pair of metallic output electrodes, each surrounded by insulating material. Tests of the Neurophone on more than 1000 persons, including some totally deaf subjects, have produced intelligible auditory sensations in all cases through the skin. You actually hear through your skin.

The clue as to how the Neurophone actually works, is contained in the skin vibration artifact, which was discovered at Tufts University. The original Neurophone used a high voltage amplitude modulated carrier wave to create a molecular vibration in the skin itself. The skin became the diaphragm of a biological electrostatic vibrator.

The skin is piezo-electric and opto-electric. That is, when the skin is stimulated by an electric field, or by a photon field, it will contract and vibrate with modulation of the field. If it is mechanically stimulated, it will generate its own electric field. In Russia, blind people have been trained to 'see' with their fingertips; and in Czechoslovakia, deaf people have been trained to 'hear' with their fingertips.

The skin is the largest most complex organ of the living system. As we develop in the womb, all organs of sense evolve from the skin. The skin involutes and convolutes to form eyes, ears, etc. Our own research indicates that the skin itself has the latent potential of performing ALL functions of perception.

The Neurophone stimulates and develops this latent ability. The skin is the organ which receives the signal from the Neurophone, and converts the incoming signal into a modulated molecular vibration which is then interpreted as sound. We could theoretically stimulate the sense of sight in a similar way.

As all acupuncture meridians are present on the surface of the skin, we have found that the Neurophone stimulation balances ALL the acupuncture meridians by activating the skin! The Neurophone MK XI, converts incoming non-linear acoustic information into a Time-Domain Amplified signal. This signal is then transmitted to a pair of high dielectric constant ceramic electrodes which are placed in contact with the skin of the head. The electric field (approximately 20 volts RMS) interacts with the skin-ceramic electrode combination to create a molecular vibration in the skin. This is then interpreted by the brain.

The result is a new modality for coupling information to the brain, using the skin itself as the receptor. Bone-conduction vibrators will not work as a Neurophone, as the vibratory signal is too gross, the skin itself must vibrate in a synchronous mode in accordance with the Time Encoded information.

Dr. Christopher Hills, in his book "Nuclear Evolution", states that the skin is a second brain, and is the basic organ of spiritual and psychic evolution. He states that the skin can be trained to develop powers of perception such as telepathy, etc.

The Neurophone is an electronic audio information processor designed and sold for experimental and entertainment purposes. It is used primarily in conjunction with an ordinary cassette recorder and then used with music, motivational, nature sound, and learning tapes. The sound is then fed into the Neurophone and out through the electrodes, giving input directly into the human brain, while bypassing the normal 8th Cranial Nerve System. The electronic circuitry of the Neurophone presents audio information to the skin in the way originally evolved to receive and decode the information eons ago. Thus, the Neurophone directly inputs information into the brain and nervous system, and even the mind, bypassing all the normal sensory systems that lie between the mind/brain loop and outside environment. What fantastic possibilities can this mean to man?

Testing by means of Applied Kinesiology, and the Laser Acupuncture Machine indicate that the entire acupuncture meridian system goes into perfect balance with continued use of the Neurophone. The balance may have a profound positive effect if continued over an extended period of time.

Dr. Flanagan is the Founder of Source of Innergy Inc., of Tucson, Az. and much of the research being done on the neurophone is being conducted in his laboratories there. In addition to his own research, Sheldon Deal, D.C., N.D. of Tucson has just released the first professional report. Approximately 200 other doctors and professionals in the healing arts are currently researching the Neurophone.

Dr. Flanagan invented the first neurophone when he was 14 years of age and now finally 22 years later, the patent was approved and the Neurophone became available to the public.

At Source of Innergy Inc., they are currently in the process of making special tapes for Neurophone users. They have found that an external stimulus at the correct frequency will stimulate the same response found in meditators who have been meditating for years. The result is a stable left-right brain balance, and an acupuncture meridian balance. If used over an extended period of time, this balance becomes stabilized against environmental stresses that tend to throw us out of balance. The synchronization of brain rhythms is believed to accelerate the natural positive evolution of the nervous system and relieve stress.

Dr. Flanagan is well known in the field of pyramidology and is the author of "Pyramid Power" and the sequel, "Beyond Pyramid Power". His inventions are many and included a practical guided missile detector that was bought by the U.S. Government when he was 11 years old. At age 17, he was listed in "Leaders in American Science" published by "Who's Who in American Science". (1962-1963 edition). He was actively involved in the U.S. Navy Dolphin Communications Research and utilized the Neurophone in that project. He has been written about in major magazines and newspapers, plus, has done work on films and television. In addition to all this, he lectures each year at universities and convention centers worldwide. His work in the study of psychic phenomena and related fields, as well as energy fields for the betterment of humanity, is indeed phenomenal.

With leaders like Dr. G. Patrick Flanagan in this field, we can rest assured we will solve the problems now confronting mankind and the Neurophone is one of the ways we can become more in tune with ourselves and the universe. Some of the future projections for the use of the Neurophone are tremendous, and research is beginning on some of the following possibilities.

1. Increase in telepathic awareness.
2. A brain-mind link between two or more people. Thomas E. Bearden has developed a mathematical formula that indicates that the combined mind power of a group of people will multiply exponentially if these people are linked in a unitary consciousness.
3. Subliminal learning may be accomplished by the subject material being played through the Neurophone at a low volume level. No conscious effort is made to learn the material. This could even be accomplished while the student is asleep.
4. Conscious learning may be accomplished by simultaneously listening to tape recorded data by means of Neurophone and headphones. In this way, the learning centers of the brain are being accessed by at least two separate channels.
5. Positive subliminal programs to alter undesirable habits: i.e., weight control, smoking control and creation of positive mental attitude.
6. Control the aging process by means of positive cellular programming via the Neurophone.
7. Totally deaf people being able to hear the recorded audio.

If these are only a few of the future possibilities for Dr. Flanagan's "learning machine", then this writer feels the prospects for our development in the 1980's are exhilarating beyond our wildest expectations. Working on ourselves with the latest in technology to help us and working together to better our world, will indeed help all humanity.

Watch for Dr. Flanagan in your area, so you too can see "Innergy" in action, as you do when you attend one of his lectures or workshops. For further information on the Neurophone, you may write to Source of Innergy, Ltd., tm P.O. Box 18224, Tucson, Az. 85715.
