HOW WE GET YOU MOVING AGAIN

At Redmond Waltz, we understand that downtime is lost production, and our mission is to expedite and simplify the repair process, making it as pain free as possible. Our in house welders and fabricators can provide quick repairs for cracked or damaged housings, and also allows us the ability to repair custom fans and fabricate specific test stands. We use premium bearings and materials to eliminate premature failure and precision balancing for maximum life. We also offer specific programs to provide a faster service and smooth the most complex administrative process, like Dedicated Inventory, Repair Subscription Service, Early PO. We also offer warehousing service to house your spares.

These programs are customized to fit the needs of individual customers – contact us for rates and availability. Because, It's Downtime or Redmond Waltz!
