Support literacy in our community and meet new families! It's our day to celebrate literacy with our young readers. Over 75 children's authors will be participating, selling books, conducting book signings, read a-louds and joining timely panel discussions. Over 2,500 families from Rye and surrounding communities throughout Westchester and Connecticut are expected to attend this full-day event. You'll connect with thousands more through our digital and traditional media coverage, including Facebook, Instagram, News 12 and more! Introduce your products and services to receptive families at one of the area's largest book festivals dedicated to supporting early childhood literacy.
