Attractions and Things To Do in Hannibal, MO

Things to Do in Hannibal

Hannibal is a beautiful city located on the Mississippi River in Northeast Missouri.

The city is home to the Mark Twain Boyhood museum where the famous American Writer grew up and began his career.

Hannibal is an outstanding city filled with various cultures and histories that contribute to the city's immense beauty and adventures.

There are many exciting attractions where you can have fun all the way or just sit back and relax. This unique city never runs out of beautiful places and exciting sites that not just bring you closer to nature but also teaches you more about history and culture.

Here are the top things to do in Hannibal, MO.
Things to Do in Hannibal

1. Mark Twain's Boyhood Home

Mark Twain's boyhood home has lots of stories revolving around it, interesting stories, though. So if you are curious about the history of the home, visiting Mark Twain's boyhood home is one of the fun things to do in Hannibal.

Mark Twain's boyhood home is a popular tourist attraction in the city that welcomes hundreds of visitors.

Mark Twain was a young boy from a little town that became the most loved Author in America, and his house currently serves as a museum. The Museum contains a wide range of exhibits inspired by books, beautiful sculptures, and his books.

Many people visit his home as a way to pay tribute to the celebrated intellectual; when you visit, do well to tour Mark Twain's boyhood home.

Address: 120 N Main St, Hannibal, MO 63401, United States

2. Becky Thatcher's House

Another top thing to do in Hannibal is visiting the Becky Thatcher's House; it was the home of the Elijah Hawkins Family.

Laura Hawkins, his daughter, was a childhood friend of Mark Twain and his muse for Becky Thatcher, a character in his book "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer."

Becky Thatcher's House was purchased by the Mark Twain museum in January, 2001 from private ownership.

The building was recently renovated in 2016; the Becky Thatcher store is fully packed with a variety of toys, books, and dolls.

Becky Thatcher's House plays an essential part in the Mark Twain National Register of Historic District, make sure you stop by.

Address: 213 Hill St, Hannibal, MO 63401, United States

3. The Haunted Museum

If you're a fan of horrifying and unnerving stories, add a visit to the haunted museum to your list of best things to do in Hannibal.

The haunted museum promotes the culture and history of Hannibal; it also features a cemetery just beside it, which makes it more terrifying and fun.

It is themed as a haunted museum because it is said to be haunted by ghosts; you get to discover stories of murder and wrongdoings that occurred during the days of Mark Twain boyhood.

The haunted museum offers tours throughout the museum, including the cemetery, where you find out any spooky activity and check out the graves of civil war soldiers and slaves.

The museum offers private and group tours with dinner and tour packages, so offer you book your reservation in advance.

Address: 200 N Main St, Hannibal, MO 63401, United States

4. Ayers Pottery

Attractions and Things To Do in Nauvoo, IL

New Nauvoo Temple

The Nauvoo Temple was built by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and was the second church built by them. In the winter of 1846 it was finished and finally sold in 1848. The president of the church announced the rebuilding of the church in the year 1999. On 27 June 2002, the church was dedicated as the Nauvoo Temple, on the 158th anniversary of the death of Joseph and Hyrum Smith. Its exterior is a reproduction of the first church but the interior is like that of a modern day LDS temple.

Public tours to this temple are not available but individuals are welcome to stroll the temple grounds.

Nauvoo Christian Visitors Center

Nauvoo Visitor Center is the best way to start your visit of Nauvoo. Many short films are shown here like 'Remembering Nauvoo,' 'Meet The Mormons,' and 'Joseph the Prophet of Restoration.' You can also gather information about the place by looking at a relief map from 1846, and study historic art and crafts displayed here.

This visitors center is open 365 days a year but do check their opening timings for the day before you head in. There, you can gather information on more than two dozen restored shops, homes and religious buildings restored in Nauvoo.

Nauvoo Visitor Center

Joseph Smith Mansion House, Nauvoo Historic District, Nauvoo, Illinois

The Joseph Smith Mansion House was constructed by Joseph Smith, the founder of the LDS movement. In 1918, Joseph Smith's grandson deeded the house to the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The RLDS Church still owns the mansion house and operates it as a tourist museum and a historical site. It is a part of the Nauvoo Historic District, a National Historic Landmark.

You can also take a guided tour for a small fee and explore the Smith family's homes.

Joseph Smith Historic Properties

Cultural Hall, Nauvoo Historic District, Nauvoo, Illinois

You can experience the social life of old Nauvoo in the evening here, it's the best place to be after the sun goes down. There is a play performed by local artists in the hall called 'Rendezvous in Old Nauvoo.' It depicts the life of the people of the city during its golden age. The play is performed throughout the year on special request.

This Cultural Hall also served as the headquarters for the Masonic Lodge and the Nauvoo Legion. The hall also had over 20 different uses such as church meetings, funerals, dances and more.

Jonathan Browning Gun Shop

Handgun Pistol Firearms

Jonathan Browning was a person who ran a successful gun repair business in Nauvoo. By visiting the Nauvoo home and gun shop of Jonathan Browning we can take a look at the beginning of the world famous Browning Arms Corporation. We can also see the creations of Browning's here like his specially designed authentic rifles, handguns and shotguns. He is recognized as a man who invented the six shot repeater and the repeating rifle.

Jonathan Browning's son, John Moses Browning, invented the automatic machine gun. The descendants Jonathan Browning also helped fund an authentic restoration of the Browning Home and Gunshop in the 1960s, which was one of the first buildings to be restored in Nauvoo. Jonathan Browning Gun Shop

Nauvoo State Park and Museum (Nauvoo, Illinois) on the Mormon Pioneer National Historic Trail (2004)

As you traverse the city of Nauvoo, you will stumble upon Nauvoo State Park where both kids and adults can enjoy themselves. This park covers a 13-acre (5.2 hectare) lake with a mile (1.2 km) long shoreline. If you are a fishing lover, then you will definitely love this place. In addition to fishing, you can also enjoy boating, camping, and hiking. Do not expect a lot of visitors, since it is not a popular tourist spot in Nauvoo.

You can also visit the Nauvoo State Park Museum, a house that was built by Mormons in the 1840s and remodeled by Icarians. This building was later owned by the Rheinberger family, which now serves as a museum. It exhibits artifacts from different periods such as the Native American occupation of the region and the time when Nauvoo Blue Cheese was introduced in the 1930s.

Wilford Woodruff Farm House

Wilford Woodruff was the fourth president of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. You could say that this home is the finest and the most well-preserved brick house of the 1840s. After its completion, the family wasn't able to move in and the house was sold in April 1846. It was the first home to get renovated in 1969. It is now open as a display place for the possessions of Wilford Woodruff.

Wildford Woodruff Home

Heber C. Kimball Home, Nauvoo Historic District,
Nauvoo, Illinois

Heber C. Kimball was a potter, an apostle and a blacksmith who lived in Nauvoo in one of the brick houses. Kimball moved into the home with his family in 1845 when it was still unfinished. They were able to live in the house for only a very short period as they had to leave for the West with the Mormon exodus. He preached in England in the 1830s and brought the converts to Nauvoo to live. In 1954 Heber C. Kimball's grandson again purchased the home and got it restored.

Trail of Hope, Nauvoo, Illinois

The Parley Street in Nauvoo which leads to Mississippi River is called the Trail of Hope. Along the length of the street, there are 30 marker boards having quotes from people who had to leave their homes in Nauvoo. Walking down the street and reading the markers is a memorable event and sheds light on what the pioneers felt when they were forced from Nauvoo. The story behind its name is that there was supposedly more than a thousand Latter-day saints who walked down Parley Street.

Address: Parley St, Nauvoo

Bagpipe and Brass Band

Nauvoo's bagpipe band was originally called Joseph's City Band. The brass band at Nauvoo was formed in 1842 and the band performed at public concerts and other events. The brass band was recreated in 2002 and now young missionaries come to Nauvoo to play in the brass band every summer. They perform on the streets of Nauvoo on horse drawn bandwagons daily in summer.
Bagpipe and Brass Band

Baxter's Vineyards

Illinois's oldest vineyard is situated in Nauvoo and it is Baxter's Vineyards. The vineyard has been producing quality wines since 1851. Here you can take a self-guided tour of the winery, along with the gift shop. There is a bar named The Wine Barrel in the winery, which serves Baxter's wines and various spirits.

Family Living Center

Candle Making - The Lit Candle
The best educational and family friendly place in Nauvoo is the Family Living Centre. At this place, you can learn to produce everyday things which the saints made here. You can try learning candle making, rope making, and many other crafts. There are no charges for anyone who enters the Family Living Centre, so it's a great, cheap family outing. Address: White St, Nauvoo

Antiquing in Old Nauvoo

Antique Shop Vintage

One of the best antique stores in Hancock County is located in Nauvoo itself. The antiques here come from auctions around the area and far off places too. There is a large selection of collectibles and out of print books in Neff's Old House Books Store.

Rescue Truck Rules

The Rescue Truck takes and is available for cars on the documented Octane Route only. The Rescue Truck cannot support attendees taking their own/different route.

Rescue Truck and Tools are available throughout Tour (unless tending to another vehicle then first come first served and priority)

You may choose to have your vehicle taken to next Stop or Hotel or Nearest Repair Facility to fix and continue.

If your car needs to be towed home, you must make your own plans.

OCTANE TOUR -Frequently Asked Questions

Where do we start from every morning on the Octane Tour? Each morning Tour participants will meet in the Hotel Parking lot for a Driver's Meeting. At the driver's meeting, Tour participants will be informed of weather conditions, any delays or changes in the Tour route, any changes to the day's itinerary, etc.

Do we have to follow the mapped route on the Octane Tour?

Each morning you have the option of starting from the drivers' meeting, and from there it is up to you what route you follow. We pre-run the route prior to Octane Tour and release the driving directions but note those directions may be subject to change for road closures in the event we are notified. Check the Octane Tour Facebook Page frequently for updates in the weeks prior to the Tour. The final version of the driving directions you will be supplied with when you register will be as up to date as possible. However, note that construction pops up frequently, so be sure to allow for that and follow any posted detour signs. The driving directions we supply are a suggested mapped route for each day, but it is not mandatory that they be followed. If you want to hit some local landmark that is not on the mapped route, please feel free to! Don't stray too far as the rescue vehicle stays on the route.

Can I bring my pet or animal on the Octane Tour?

We recommend that you do not bring your pets. The Octane Tour stops are usually held on asphalt, and it does get very, very warm. It is unfair to the animal, and it is respectful to Octane Tour fellow participants and spectators to leave the animals at home.

I am traveling by myself. Do I meet up with someone to run with between cities?

Yes, it is encouraged that you employ the buddy system. It is always a good idea to pair up with at least one other participant so you can help each other out if the need arises along the way.

Suggestions:

Become familiar with the route prior to THE TOUR. Have maps and GPS with you.

Use the Buddy System; have 2, 3, 4 or 5 cars that you will run with and try to stay together. We would love for ALL the cars to stay together but that is probably not possible with traffic lights etc. Also, in case there is a mechanical issue someone will be close, and we can get the emergency truck there ASAP.

Have all the contact numbers you need in your phone prior to THE TOUR

Matt Burcham 618-407-6517

RESCUE TRUCK – Terry Shephard (618) 972-1492

RESCUE TRUCK – TBD

Scout out things to see and places to visit/eat before THE TOUR and visit them.

Try to meet everyone on THE TOUR

Think of someone to invite for next year. Anyone is welcome.

Make notes of what you would like to see for next year.

Proposed Route for 2024 is TBD
