

THE INSIDER

SATURDAY DECEMBER 6TH 2025

As we move into the final month of the year, it's a perfect time to reflect on how much life can change in just twelve months and why your insurance coverage should evolve with you.

OUR MISSION IS SIMPLE:
WE WORK WITH CANADIANS WHO ARE READY TO SECURE THEIR FINANCIAL FUTURE.

A yearly insurance review is a simple but meaningful check-in. It's an opportunity to confirm that your coverage still matches your goals, financial situation, and responsibilities. It can highlight important gaps, unnecessary overlaps, or updates that can strengthen your protection.

Questions to Guide Your Review

Do my current policies still match my needs and goals?

Are my premiums still reasonable for the coverage I'm receiving?

Are there exclusions or limitations that should be updated or changed?

MARKET UPDATE NOVEMBER 2025

Global equity markets were mostly flat in November 2025 as gains in materials and consumer-staples stocks were offset by cooling enthusiasm for tech and mixed signals on rate cuts. Despite sluggish global growth and lingering trade uncertainty, Canada's stock market hit a new record high, supported by domestic strength and elevated. At the same time, economic growth remains modest meaning weak global demand and cautious business sentiment continue to weigh on broader economic momentum in Canada.
