There is no change to report in our wheat market. No. 1 brings 75c. and No. 2 73c.

Now is the time to be looking after your winter underwear, and Philbrick & Francois is the place to look for it.

The Redwood Bank has greatly enlarged and improved its place of business, and now boasts a fire-proof vault.

Messrs. Praxel & Schanders, of Lamberton, are building a warehouse 26 x 50 feet, at that place.

Rev. J. M. Thurston's appointment for preaching in Paxton, next Sabbath, is changed from morning to 2:30 P. M.

The Fair committee have been putting the Fair grounds and track in good order, during the past week. A big job.

At the request of some of the officers of the Fair we again print the premium list this week, in which will be found one or two changes.

The Rev. Hugh McMahon of Duncansville Blinds Hill precinct, is the Presbyterian church, in this place, next Sabbath evening, September 27th, at 7½ o'clock.

At M. E. church, next Sabbath morning and evening, Mrs. Prescott, of the Womans' Foreign Missionary Society, will deliver addresses. Everybody welcomed.

The new Board of Education for this District organized last Saturday evening by the reelection of last year's officers, as follows: Wm. B. Harriott, President; D. L. Bigham, Clerk; W. D. Flinn, Treasurer.

The Secretary of the Fair Association suggests that those who propose making exhibits at the Fair next week should have them entered at once, so that proper arrangements can be made for their display. Entries can be made now, on application to the Secretary, or by letter to the Secretary, Geo. W. Braley.

Merritt & Prescott have purchased of Daniels & Wasson their factory on Mill Street, together with the right to manufacture and sell the Daniels' sulky plow attachment in the counties of Redwood, Brown, Nicollet and Renville. This attachment is becoming known and recognized by farmers as an important and saving invention.

There is no discount on Minnesota potatoes. An Indiana subscriber to the GAZETTE tells us that he is going to have several barrels of the tubers shipped from here to his home in Indiana. Potatoes in that region are a failure, and will be worthless this season. In this connection we ask leave to correct our notice of last week, in which we said that Mr. Thorenhill raised his potatoes form a peck of seed. We should have said, a bushel and a peck.

Personal Notes.

Mrs. Ed. Cook, formally of this place, but now of Rochester, is visiting among friends in this vicinity.

J. W. Sensenny, of Bowling Green, Ind., has been in town during the past week. He reports politics very warm in his state. Mr. Sensenny owns the corner lot west of the Redwood Bank, and would like to become a citizen of Redwood, if his business interests in Indiana would not suffer from the change.

Carpenters are rushed with work these times. Besides the numerous buildings we have already mentioned, there are others now under way. Among these we note the residence of Geo. Bunce, which will be a quite roomy and convenient one-story cottage, located nearly opposite Mr. Lyman's house. The O'Hara's are the builders. We should like to borrow that grocery long enough to raise the necessary means for putting up a house like Mr. Bunce's.

This number of the GAZETTE begins a new volume. In order to get our subscription list as nearly as possible on a cash basis, we make the following offer to old subscribers: Those who pay their subscriptions between now and November 1st will be allowed the benefit of our cash reduction for the last six months of the year—that is, their subscription will be reckoned at $1.75, instead of $2 for the current year. After Nov. 1st, no reduction will be made to delinquents. We trust that the mass of our subscribers will avail themselves of this opportunity to save to themselves a quarter, and at the same time save us some inconvenience. We have added to our list nearly a hundred names during the summer, and hope to add as many more before the beginning of the new year, under our present very reasonable terms—$1.50 per annum, in advance.

Fair Programme.

Hymeneal.

Hastings Gazette, Sept. 18.

Quite a number of relatives and friends gathered at the residence of Mr. William Dyer on Wednesday morning, at ten o'clock, to witness the marriage ceremony of Miss Ella J. Dyer and Mr. Howard N. Bell, of Redwood Falls, the Rev. J. B. Donaldson officiating. Miss Lizzie Le Vesconte and Mr. N. St. Clair Livingston, of Minneapolis, acting as bridesmaid and groomsman. After a bountiful wedding breakfast and the hearty congratulations of their friends the happy couple left on the 9:20 train for Redwood Falls, their future home. Miss Le Vesconte and Mr. Livingston accompanying them as far as St. Paul. The best wishes of their hosts of friends go with them to their new home.

Among their many presents received we mention the following:

China vase, gold banded, J. H. Lewis, Lizzie A. Lewis, Dr. M. Champlin, Mattie E. Shepard, Nev. McHugh, Agnes Newell, Kate E. Wiley, Ellen C. Gilley, Miss A. Wellington, Mrs. C. Ayer, Minnie Ayer, Mary O. Burty, Eliza J. Quilliken, Flora J. Adams.

Set silver fruit and spoons, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bell.

Picture of the widow in cream, Misses Bridget and Lulu Bell.

Chinn cluster set, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bell.

Silver dinner caster, Kate C. Bell.

Set toilet bottles, Lizzie E. Bell.

Linen table cloth, Mrs. A. R. Bell.

Silver tilver and satin picture frame, Lillie F. Day.

Set silver knives, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Rotherington.

Satin and lace bracket lambrequin, Mrs. Lizzie Cooper, Fergus Falls.

Set table mats, Mrs. T. Rogers.

Pair towels, Mrs. Blake, Ravenna.

Silver salver and cream pitcher in blue satin case, Miss Lizzie Le Vesconte.

For plows go to Zwick & Rigby's.

Miss Long is selling black Milan walking hats for 75 cents, former price $1.

A large assortment of winter caps, just received, at McMillan's.

Have you seen those beautiful fringes, at Philbrick & Francois. They are all the rage now.

Geo. Drake has just received the largest assortment of whips ever brought to this market; prices from 15 cents to $3. Also, the finest stock of trunks and traveling bags in town.

Miss L. W. Long

Would respectfully state to her friends and the trade in general, that she will be in receipt of new goods this week and the following weeks through the season. Although I have a large share of the trade, I wish this fall to double their number, and to induce buyers to whom I have never sold to give me a trial and convince themselves that it will be to their advantage. I shall offer millinery for below prices that have ever been reached before. In these days of close rivalry it is simply necessary to buy right or you cannot compete with your more wide-awake neighbor. Fully appreciating this, I am constantly on the lookout for bargains, and am always ready to dispose of these bargains at a slight advance.

Assuring my customers that I will continue to use my best exertions in their behalf, and with many thanks for their liberal patronage, I remain,

Very respectfully,

MISS L. W. LONG.

For sulky and hand plows, call on Zwick & Rigby.

At Miss Long's you can buy a fine black ostrich tip for 25 cents.

Don't buy a cloak until you have looked over that magnificent line that Philbrick & Francois have just received.

Don't forget Busch's exposition of furniture, when you come to the Fair, next week. Mill Street.

In answering our queries about the schools, Prof. Marshman spoke warmly in praise of his classes and teachers, and promised a full report of the school at an early date.

Mr. Powell has fitted up very pleasant offices in his new building on Mill street. The rooms are ceiled throughout, and finished in good taste. Mr. Holliday managed the carpenter work.

The Vermont Watchman contains an extended biographical sketch of Dr. Norman W. Braley, president of the National Bank of Barre, who died suddenly of apoplexy, Sept. 11th, at his home at Barre. Dr. Braley was the oldest brother of Mr. Geo. W. Braley, of Redwood, and all three of the surviving brothers are quite well known here. For more than twenty years he was a prominent and successful physician at Chelsea, Vt., and for the remainder of his career the founder and head of the National Bank of Barre. He was public spirited and upright as a citizen, and the Watchman concludes the sketch by saying that "to the community at large, as they miss him from the places which knew him so well, there will come a consciousness that a noble-hearted, generous man has gone from among them."

Go to Miss Long's for your fine stock ing yarns.

Bargains in white blankets and bed comfortables, at Philbrick & Francois'.

A nice line of pressed velvets for trimming, at McMillan's.

Wheat Items.

Fred Holt, of Swedes Forest, threshed 35 acres of wheat which averaged 25 bushels to the acre.

R. C. Coles field of ninety acres of wheat, south of town, turned out 2,010 bushels, machine measure, or 22½ bushels to the acre.

C. L. Holmes has just marketed about 3,000 bushels of excellent No. 1 wheat, which was threshed before the rain. Part of the balance of his large crop may lose a grade from the stigma. The yield was about 22 bushels to the acre. About 700 acres were harvested.

Philbrick & Francois have a nice line of waterproofs, in all the popular colors, suitable for ulsters and circulars, which they are selling very low. Call and see them.

The Face.

We have received the following letter, which we print "verbatim, et literatim, et punctuatem."

BIRCH COULE, Sept. 17, 1880.

Mishter Editer of the Gazette: DEAR SIR: I wint over to Redwood Falls to see if Bishop Gordon would take me whole crop and let me have a self-binder. God bless him, and I took meself into Mike O'Hara's saloon to get me a nip of cold Irish whiskey. Mike O'Hara is a gintleman—ivery inch of him. Mike told me to rade the big paper on the wall—all about the Face. What I read was a licence not to sell any whiskey on Sunday and not to kape open after 11 o'clock at night, and I said to Mike, be gorra, it isn't fare at all, at all. Och! says Mike, you blatherskite, it isn't the Face at all, the advertisement about the Face I'm after having your rade. Mishter Editer, I tried to rade the advertisement about the Face, but be jabers I don't think it was fare either, for I couldn't tell what it meant, sir, and I'm writing you this letter to have you explain in your paper all about it for the good of the public and their ancesters. The advertisement says there will be "Sweepstakes at the Fair." Mishter Editer, is this an advertisement to all of the pickpockets to come to Redwood Fair? I am towld that Redwood Falls was a high moral town until they began to be after hanging people to collect their debts, and that now all the tyes take the town every night, and that the saloon-keepers have a policeman that they pay to watch the village council let the tyes alone? Mishter Editer, if we go to the Fare must we take our shelelighs with us?

The advertisement says, "Sweepstakes free to all divided." Mr. Editer, I don't know what sweepstakes dievided manes. The advertisement says, "Free to horses owned in Redwood and Renville counties divided." Mishter Editer, I have a mare 20 years old, who has taken to the fare, but I don't want the cold mare dievided. The advertisement says, "Running race for $250, best two in three, half mile heats, divided." Mishter Editer, I have been running from me creeters in Renville county, and Redwood know how I can bate livery mother's son of them—half mile bates or three mile bates. But I don't know about the dievided. Is the half mile bates to be divided, or is the best two in three to be divided, or fails are all of us to be dievided? Bridget says if if manes all of us I shan't go to the Fare. The advertisement says the "Farmers of Redwood and adjoining counties are invited to place the various products of their farms on exhibition." Mishter Editer, the cat has five kittens, the dog has six puppies, the sow has fifteen, and the cow has a twin calf, and by the help of the blessed Virgin we have razed 700 bushels of wheat, 300 bushels of oats, 1500 bushels of corn and 300 bushels of barley, besides Bridget has been breeding wild geese, wolves and hunting dogs. Must we bring all the various products of the farm to the Fare. The advertisement says, "Hay will be furnished free to all stock." Mishter Editer, the ould mare laughed when I put her before the mowing machine for her hay. The advertisement says, "the advantages of having an association in our midst affords the farmer an opportunity of comparing notes with his neighbors." Mishter Editer, Bridget says she don't want an "association" in our house. My notes (Bridget owns the farm and has no notes) are on file in the safe in the chine men. If the association faith will tell me how to get hould of them, I will bring them to the Fare along with the "various products," and compare them with the neighbors. We don't know what the association is on our house with them, unless it is to show "the practical results of well-directed toil." The advertisement says, "the laboring man, mechanic, merchant and business man who never reads this is an unpardonable error." Mishter Editer, what is a "monotonous one?" Will the association kape it in a side show along with the glasceture? Will Bridget have to pay anything to see it? Does it belong to the "association in our midst?" I asked Mike O'Doherty and every one in Birch Coole how a man who never reads is a "monotonous one," and divil a one could tell me. The advertisement says, "We would say to one and all, rest a day or two, come to the Redwood county fair." Mishter Editer, we are threshing; can't we come to the fare without resting a day or two? The advertisement says, "bring your wives, and daughters to join us." If you don't have a good time it will not be the fault of the managers of this association." Now, Mishter Editer, I don't know whether to come or not. I have only one wife—that's Bridget, and me daughters are the baby, and she is a boy. Bridget wont let me go to Salt Lake City because she don't want me to have any more wives. But if you will explain the advertisement of the "association in our midst," I will take Bridget to the Redwood county Fare to "compare notes," and then I can have as many wives as I want, and have a good time. MISHTER EDITER—tell us what the advertisement means, and we will come to the Fare and bring all the various products with us.

Your obadient servent,

PAT GRANGER.

Dentistry.

Dr. McGraw, of Mankato, writes us that he will be in Redwood Falls again, Oct. 4th, "to make sufferers of mankind happy." For real solid enjoyment, there is nothing like a dentist's chair.

They do these things differently in Redwood. When the elated granger drops in to run the town, the barbarous policy of arresting him is pursued in some benighted villages. Here the cane is to soothe and pacify him. To carry out this plan our police should be provided with a pocketful of tracts and a bottle of soothing syrup.

Something Nice.

The ladies of the Methodist church of this place, having secured the use of Mr. Belt's building, will serve meals on Wednesday and Thursday, the 29th and 30th of September, regale all who will patronize them with fresh oysters and other good things for the "stomach's sake."

In the evenings an old fashioned New England supper will be given, and the guests will be entertained by the ladies dressed in the costumes of "ye ancient days."

Those desirous of a good time, a good dish of fresh oysters, or of assisting the ladies in their benevolent labors for the church cause, will not fail to be present.
