

Application Record Copies and Existing, Unrestricted, Supporting Documentation for Record Copies

The DAR uses the term “record copy” for a reproduction of an approved membership application paper or a copy of an approved supplemental application paper. A “supplemental application” is a, additional form that a member files tracing her lineage back to an ancestor different from the one on whom she joined on her original application.

The term “documentation” refers to the supporting materials that came with an application or supplemental application. The older the application is there is a greater likelihood that no documentation now survives. In the years before easy access to photocopy machines (roughly the 1960s), many members requested that their documentation be returned to them. The DAR honored these requests until about 1984. As a result, prior to 1984, a major percentage of applications and supplementals do not have supporting documentation. After that date, all documentation should be present with some exceptions. The DAR does not guarantee that documentation within these files will meet today’s genealogical standards and will be acceptable for current or future DAR applications or supplemental applications.

“Restricted” documentation is material, such as vital records, that is less than 100 years old. The DAR does not make such documents available for copying or for research under any circumstances. Vital records for a number of states are available online through a variety of websites. For those records that are not online, researchers must contact the appropriate state office to obtain such copies under state laws and the restrictions that will apply

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF THE DOCUMENTS YOU JUST RECEIVED

Purchase of a record copy of a DAR application paper or supplemental application paper does not transfer any intellectual property rights or ownership to the purchaser. The DAR asserts copyright protection on record copies and prohibits the posting of images of DAR application papers and supplemental application papers online in any form by anyone. By ordering a record copy either electronically, by mail, or by fax, the purchaser acknowledges awareness of this policy and agrees not to post images online.

Supporting documentation files are comprised of documents from a variety of sources and repositories. DAR makes no assertion of ownership or copyright. Copies are provided for personal research purposes only. Researchers should contact the original owning repository for permission to publish.

All record copy fees are non-refundable, and no substitutions will be made.

Membership and supplemental application papers of active, deceased, resigned, or dropped DAR members may be ordered by mail or by fax for a fee of $15.00 per paper via the DAR Library’s Copy Service.

To order copies of supporting documentation by mail, contact the Library’s Search Service. The Search Service does not provide record copies. For more information, visit our Search Service page.

SAMUEL STUART, THE IMMIGRANT

In the year 1859, Edward "Ned" Stuart, grandson of this Samuel Stuart, wrote his family history which he called the HISTORY OF THE STUARTS. Edward "Ned" Stuart was a school teacher in Moore and Chatham Counties, North Carolina for over forty years. He was 59 years old when he wrote his family history. The following is from that family history.

"My paternal grandfather, Samuel Stuart, with his wife, whose maiden name was Jane Dickey, emigrated to this country from Londonderry, Ireland, something more than a century ago (ie before 1759). They came to this country man and wife, though I believe all their children were born in this country. They had a number of children. I will give their names so that their descendants may be able to claim relation with each other, as they are widely scattered....I remember seeing him (Ed., must have meant his grandfather and Ned was born in 1800) and regret very much that he did not live until I was old enough to enquire of him. He was for the time, very intelligent; something more of the ancestors; He was of the Scotch Irish race; he lived to be over a hundred years old."

In 1906, Q. A. Oats, Methodist Preacher in Mississippi, and great-grandson of Samuel Stuart, wrote the following in a letter to his cousin. "Your great grandfather Stuart, and mine, was born in Londonderry, Ireland. He was Scotch, as were his parents. The name Stuart is derived from the line of Scotch kings. Alderman Frenchman was Steward to King David, of Scotland and got his name. He married the King's daughter and their descendants were called Stuarts. The branch of the family we descended from, fled to Ireland when King William, of Orange conquered Scotland. Our great grandfather was Samuel Stuart. He married Jane Dickey. They came to this country with the Puritans,--from there to Virginia, from there to the Scotch settlement in Chatham County, North Carolina, finally settled in Moore County."

(Ed note: I do not know how much of this was fact and how much was legend that had been handed down to him.)

Another family history from Samuel Stuart's granddaughter, Nancy Violet Stuart, stated that Samuel Stuart was from the Royal House of Scotland and England and that he emigrated from Scotland when the Kingdoms of England and Scotland combined. (Ed note: I believe this should have been stated that he emigrated after the kingdoms combined, because he was born about 1714 and that was about the time the two kingdoms combined. It might have been our Samuel Stuart's father that left Scotland and went to Ireland about 1714.

From the above histories we conclude that Samuel Stuart must have emigrated about 1750. Where he landed in America is not known, but it probably was Philadelphia and then he moved to Orange County, North Carolina.

SAMUEL STUART IN AMERICA

Samuel Stuart probably stayed in the Pennsylvania a short period of time, before moving to North Carolina. He could have moved to North Carolina with the Lindleys, Hollingsworths and Harlans. "These families resided in the Kennet township of Chester County, Pennsylvania, until about the year 1753, when in company with others they all moved to Chatham County(then Orange Co.), North Carolina, and settled on "Cane Creek". This information was obtained from the book, THE HARLAN FAMILY, by Alpheus H. Harlan

The earliest Tax List of Orange County, North Carolina to survive until today is the 1755 List and it contains the names of SAMUEL STUART, John Stuart and James Stuart among others. I believe that James and John Stuart were close relatives of our Samuel Stuart. The Orange County, North Carolina Court Minutes of March 1758 mentions a Samuel Stuart as Keeper of the Goal(Jail). A part of Orange Co., NC in 1770 became Chatham County.

Mr. William D. Bennett of Raleigh, NC, while doing research for Mr. Milton Stewart of Cornelia, GA in 1982 located the following grants in the Secretary of State Papers from Orange County, NC:

- 6 May 1756 - Entry - John Stewart - 640 acres on south side of Haw River on Robinsons Creek.
- 1 Aug 1756 - Entry - John Stewart - 640 acres on south side of Haw River adjoining William Marsh.
- 23 Nov 1761- Entry - James Stewart Jr. by John Stewart on Robesons Creek waters of Haw River - adjoining William Petty's line.
- 13 Dec 1762- SAMUEL STEWART - 700 acres on Terrells Creek of Haw River - including his improvements.
- 22 Oct 1763- Entry - John Stewart - 206 acres on waters of Haw River adjoining William Marsh and Markis.

(From STEWART CLAN MAGAZINE of August 1948). Samuel Stuart was living in Orange County, NC, on Jun 1, 1766, when Hugh Linon of that county made his will and appointed "my friends Samuel Stuart and William Lindsay" executors. Linon bequeated to Stuart "my slave Hannah until she is 18." Linon, who was from Ireland, owned land on Pine Hill Creek, a small stream flowing into Cane Creek, and when Chatham County was set off from Orange in 1770 most of Pine Hill Creek went with it.

Samuel Stuart, of Chatham Co., NC, bought Feb 8, 1777 of Matthew Fike 150 acres of land "beginning at an ash on the river bank" and the witnesses to the deed were Argulas Henderson and George Stuart. This was in Chatham Co., and when Samuel Stuart sold this land July 31, 1784 to Charles Morgan, Sr., the witnesses to the deed were Joseph Morgan and John Stuart. Samuel Stuart was granted Mar 3, 1779, 272 acres and also 578 acres on both sides of Pine Hill Creek in Chatham Co., NC. Samuel was called "weaver" when he deeded 50 acres of the above land to William Neblett, weaver, on April 22, 1780. Samuel deeded Aug 1, 1785, to Joseph Hadley 384 acres on Pine Hill Creek, adjoining John Pyle. The witnesses to this deed were Aaron Harlan and James Stuart. Samuel was granted Oct 3, 1782, 100 acres of land on the branches of Love's Creek, waters of Rocky River, and was designated "weaver" when he sold this tract Feb 12, 1787, to John Lambert, planter: witnesses, Thomas Beaver and John Stuart. On Dec 21, 1782, Samuel bought of Joseph Hadley 300 acres of land adjoining Timothy Terrell on Vernon's Creek on the waters of Deep River, Chatham Co., NC. The witnesses to the deed were Joshua Hadley and Adam Stuart. On May 6, 1785, Samuel Stuart, weaver, bought, of William George, planter, 52 acres on Terrell's Creek, waters of Rocky River, adjoining Hadley: witnesses, Aaron Harlan and Aaron Terrell. On Aug 9, 1787, Samuel was granted 100 acres on the head of Terrell's Creek, adjoining William George. On Sep 11, 1787, he deeded to Jacob Cohat 350 acres of land on both sides of Pine Hill Creek which had been granted to him. The witnesses to his signature (always Sal Stuart) were Edward Stuart and James Woolason. That makes five other Stuarts who have signed as witnesses - George, Adam, John, James and Edward.

The census of 1790 showed one Samuel Stewart was head of a family in Chatham Co., NC, he had, apparently, a wife, 3 sons over 16, one son under 16, and a daughter and five slaves. He lived in a Quaker neighborhood but was probably not a Quaker. One Samuel Stuart, probably the same, bought Sep 9, 1791, of William Hardin of Moore County, NC, 640 acres of land on the waters of Little Brush Creek, adjoining Thompson and Greaves, in Chatham Co., NC and the witnesses to the deed were Jacob Teague and Samuel Stuart, Jr. There were many more deeds, and one in 1801 referred to Samuel Stuart as "of Moore Co., NC" (End of article from STEWART CLAN MAGAZINE)

Again quoting Mr. William D. Bennett, professional researcher, of Raleigh, NC: "It is to believe that Samuel Stuart is the one who entered land on Terrells Creek in 1762. This is on the northeast side of Haw River about opposite Terrells Creek. With the closing of the Granville Land Office in Mar 1763 following the death of Lord

Granville, it is very probable no grant was issued for this tract. From then until 1778 it was impossible to obtain title to vacant land in this area (the Granville Tract).

Today Pine Hill and Cane Creeks are in the southwestern corner of Alamance Co. For a better understanding of the deeds, the term "on the waters of" meant that the land was drained by that particular stream but was not bounded by the stream. Samuel seems to have speculated in land, which was very common at this period. His land purchases extend from one side of Chatham to the other. Brush Creek is on the western edge of Chatham and flows into Randolph Co. before emptying into Deep River. I presume Bloody Creek is present day Bloodrun Creek.

COURT MINUTES

The Abstracts of Court Minutes of the Pleas and Quarter Sessions of Chatham Co., NC taken from the NORTH CAROLINA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY JOURNAL mentions Samuel Stuart several times. These minutes cover the period from May 1774 to May 1778. Samuel Stewart, overseer of road from the Great Branch of Dry Creek to the Orange Co., NC line (May 1774). Samuel Stewart...Grand Jury duty...Orphans, Sarah Jones, 14, and Jemimah Jones, 8, bound to Samuel Stewart (Aug 1774). Esquires present...Samuel Stewart. Samuel Stewart overseer of road from Terrell's Creek to Blossingame's Branch. Esquires Justices: Samuel Stewart. Processioners in Capt. Harper's District: Samuel Stewart and Jeduthan Harper (May 1775). Esquires present...Samuel Stewart & Balaam Thompson (Aug 1775). Court ordered that Samuel Stewart have leave to turn the publick road a small distance round his plantation (May 1776). Court ordered that Martin Crutchfield be appointed overseer of the road in room of Samuel Stewart (Aug 1777). End of Court Minutes.

The Federal Census of 1800 shows Samuel Stuart living in Moore Co., NC which is located adjacent to Chatham Co. In the 1800 Census, Samuel is listed as being born before 1755 as is his wife and another female born between 1774 and 1784 is living with them. His son, Samuel Stewart, Jr. is listed in Chatham Co., NC and was born between 1755 and 1774. The Federal Census of 1810 of North Carolina does not list Samuel Stuart, Sr., but does list his son, Samuel Stuart, Jr. still living in Chatham Co., NC and shows a male born before 1765 living with Samuel Jr. My guess is that Samuel Stuart Sr.'s wife Jane (Dickey) Stuart, died between 1800 and 1810 and that old Samuel moved in with his son back in Chatham Co., NC.

We know from the Family History and by deeds in North Carolina and Georgia that Samuel Stuart, Jr. moved his family to Georgia in 1811 and I believe that Samuel Stuart, Sr. went with him and stayed with another of his sons, James Stuart, in Anderson Co., SC and remained there until he died circa 1824. As mentioned before we know he was at a wedding in South Carolina in 1814 and a letter written in 1906, by Q. A. Oats said that Samuel Stuart died in South Carolina. When his son, James Stuart died in Anderson Co., SC in 1844, his obituary stated that he was buried next to his father who lived to be 96 and his father-in-law who lived to be 116. (I believe they were confused on these ages.)

According to one Family History, Samuel Stuart lived to be 110 years of age and danced, at age 100, at the wedding of his granddaughter, Nancy Violet Stuart to Mathew Elias Cunningham, in South Carolina. Samuel Stuart lived to be more 100 according to the Family History written by Ned Stuart in 1859. Using the above information, Samuel Stuart was born circa 1714 in Ireland? and died circa 1824 in Anderson County, South Carolina and was buried there.

SAMUEL STUART'S CHILDREN

Here is what the Family History, written in 1859 by Edward "Ned" Stuart had to say about the children of Samuel Stuart: "The oldest son, GEORGE, was slain in the Revolution at what is called Pile's Hacking Match, in Orange Co., NC. He died unmarried and left no children. The next, ADAM, settled in Darlington District, SC. The third, JAMES, settled in Georgia. EDWARD, my father, the fourth son, man of this history hereafter, and JOHN, the fifth son, also settled in Darlington District, SC, and SAM, the youngest, lived until his oldest children were grown, on Rocky River in Chatham Co., NC, then moved to Georgia. They also brought up two daughters. BETTIE married a man by the name of ...." Ed note: The history is torn and we do not have the name of the second daughter.

S1. Elizabeth "Bettie" Stuart was one of two daughters born to Samuel #48 and Jane (Dickey) Stuart. Elizabeth was born 22 Oct 1755 in Orange County, (now Chatham), North Carolina. Elizabeth Stuart married Aaron Harlan III about 1770 or 1771 in Chatham Co., NC and they moved to Laurens District, SC between 1783 and 1786. Aaron Harlan III died 6 Aug 1806. It seems that Elizabeth's father, Samuel Stuart, who lived to be over 100 lived with her, for a time, in South Carolina. Elizabeth (Stuart) Harlan died 21 Sep 1835 in Laurens Co., SC. Children:

- S11. Samuel Harlan, b. 1772, in NC, d. 1858 in Ind.
- S12. Sarah Harlan, 1775-1845, d. in AL, m. Charles Crow

- S2 George Stuart, the oldest son of Samuel and Jane (Dickey) Stuart, was born ca 1756, in Orange Co., NC. That part of Orange Co., NC is now Chatham Co., NC. George, was slain on 25 Feb 1781, in the Revolutionary War at Pile's Hacking Match, in Orange County. Not married.

S3. Adam Stuart was the second son born to Samuel and Jane (Dickey) Stuart. He was born between 1760 and 1765 in Orange Co., NC, now Chatham Co., NC, and died in Darlington District, SC between 1835 and 1840. Adam Stuart seems to have been married three times, we know he married Sarah Jane Mills and had two children and then he married Mrs. Jane McDowell after 1806 and they had at least one child. He must have been wed before he married Sarah Jane Mills as Samuel James Stuart, 1788-1872, may have been a son of Adam and it seems that neither of the above named wives was the mother. The 1800 Federal Census of SC seems to bear out the fact that Adam Stuart was married three times if Samuel James Stuart was not the son of Sarah Jane (Mills) Stuart.

Some of the children of Adam Stuart:

- S31. Samuel James Stuart, b ca 1790, SC, d 1872 in Utah
- S32. William Edward Stuart b. 1796 in SC, d. 1871 in AL
- S33. Elizabeth Stuart, 1799-1859, m. Robert Hepburn

EDWARD STUART #5

SON OF SAMUEL STUART, THE IMMIGRANT

Edward Stuart was the 5th child and 4th son born to Samuel and Jane (Dickey) Stuart.

From THE STEWART CLAN MAGAZINE: "Edward Stuart, son of Samuel and Jane (Dickey) Stuart, was born in July 1767 in Orange County, NC and married Mary McPherson on 13 Feb 1787 as shown by Bible records gathered by the Alexander Martin Chapter of the DAR, of High Point, NC and deposited in the Department of Archives and History at Raleigh, NC. Mary was the daughter of William McPherson of Orange County, NC as shown by his will, probated in Feb 1818, in which he spoke of Mary and Edward Stuart as "my children". Edward Stuart and James Woolason were witnesses to a deed 11 Sep 1787, by Samuel Stuart, conveying land on Pine Hill Creek, a branch of Cane Creek, in Chatham Co., NC. On 10 Jul 1788, Edward Stuart was granted 40 acres of land on Indian Creek, waters of Cane Creek, beginning at William McPherson's corner on Thaxton's line in Chatham Co., NC. The census of 1790 for Chatham Co., NC listed Edward Stewart as having a wife and two young sons. He apparently moved to Moore County, NC after that for on 11 Feb 1801, Edward Stuart, Edward Ramseur and John Dabney were witnesses to a deed by Samuel Stuart of Moore Co., NC selling land on Little Brush Creek in Chatham County, NC near the Randolph Co., NC line."

THE BROTHERS AND SISTERS OF EDWARD STUART

In 1859, Edward Stuart's son, Edward "Ned" Stuart, wrote his family history and here is what he had to say about the children of Samuel Stuart. "The oldest son, GEORGE, was slain in the Revolution at what is called Pile's Hacking Match, in Orange County. He died unmarried and left no children. The next, ADAM, settled in Darlington District, South Carolina. The third, JAMES, settled in Georgia. EDWARD, my father, the fourth son, man of this history hereafter, and SAM, the youngest, lived until his oldest children were grown, on Rocky River in Chatham County, NC, then moved to Georgia. They also brought up two daughters. BETTIE married a man by the name of....(here the history is torn...). The other daughter was not named in the history.

Edward "Ned" Stuart continued to write: "My father, Edward Stuart, was born in the northwestern part of Chatham County, NC in the year 1767. My mother was within a few days of the same age. They were married young and not being well matched, did not live happily together. They first settled near the northwestern boundary of Chatham, then moved from there to Little Brush Creek in the southwest corner of the same county where I was born but before my recollection.

moved to Moore County and settled on the dividing ridge, or about the middle grounds between McLendon's and Crawley Creeks. Here my earliest recollections are centered..... Here we lived - father, mother, brothers and sister, for some six or eight years. My father was a very ingenious man: a wagon-wright, a natural mechanic, carrying on a variety of trades as well as a farmer." Ned Stuart continued: "My fathers's family consisted of six sons and one daughter: George, Sam D., Edward(the writer), William, John and Enoch. My sister's name was Nancy. George, the oldest, was married before father and mother separated. He married Clarissa Dickerson. Samuel Dickey and sister were nearly grown. The other four, myself and three younger brothers were small - the youngest quite so. When it became known that my father was gone, what property he owned was sold to satisfy his creditors, and not enough of that. Consequently we were left quite destitute that spring."

The mother and children stayed together until the fall, when they had to separate the family. Mary (McPherson) Stuart returned to live with her kin in Orange Co., NC after the separation and she carried the two youngest children, John and Enoch, with her. Nancy went to SC to live with her Aunt Elizabeth (Stuart) Harland and Samuel Dickey went to Georgia with his Uncle Sam Stuart. A neighbor took William and Ned went to live with his married brother, George. After about a year Mary returned to Moore County and set up housekeeping and tried to keep the family together. She had Ned, John and Enoch with her at this time. In May 1813, Edward, the father, came and took Ned to live with William Tyson so that he could attend Euphronia Academy in Moore Co., NC.

Edward Stuart is mentioned for the last time in the history, circa 1816, when he gave his son, Ned, five dollars. In the 1830 Census of Moore Co., NC, Edward's son, William Stuart, is listed with 2 males 20-30 and 1 male 60-70, no females are listed. Could the 60-70 old male be Edward? When and where Edward died is not known at this time.

Mary (McPherson) Stuart, at age 71, went with her youngest son, Enoch, and his family to Fayette Co., Tenn. in 1838. Enoch married Anne McNeill in Moore Co., NC in 1834. Mary (McPherson) Stuart died in Fayette Co., Tenn. on 12 May 1842 at the age of 75.
