THE ULTIMATE 10 DAY ADVENTURE

Your Signature Guide

Michael Twedde is a renowned Peruvian wildlife photographer and conservation storyteller. He has led expeditions across the Amazon, Andes and polar regions, guiding travellers with deep ecological insight. His fieldwork includes documenting rare species and producing work for global institutions like the Pulitzer Center and Smithsonian Institute. On this Antarctica journey, he brings unmatched expertise in wildlife observation, photography and immersive nature interpretation.

Your Vessel

The Terra Nova Adventurer Built for the Southern Ocean Lloyd's Register 1B ice class, 105.5 metres and 6,334 gross tonnes, with retractable stabilisers and a bow thruster. The stabilisers are what you'll be glad of crossing the Drake.

Cabins & suites Sixty-three cabins across six categories, from Discovery Quad to Premium Suite, with dedicated Superior Single cabins for solo travellers. Interiors upgraded in 2019 and refurbished again in 2026.

Onboard facilities Restaurant, spa, sauna, gym and an outdoor jacuzzi across five passenger decks. A library and lecture lounge for the expedition team's talks, a heated mudroom for landings, and a drink at Birdie Bowers, named for the man who walked to the Pole with Scott.

ITINERARY · DAYS 1 - 7

EXPLORING THE ANTARCTIC PENINSULA

Day 1 Ushuaia, Argentina

Your adventure begins with boarding The Terra Nova Adventurer at Ushuaia, Argentina where you'll meet your crew and fellow travellers. After settling into your cabin, the ship sets off along the picturesque Beagle Channel. Relish your first evening at sea as the southernmost tip of South America disappears from view.

Day 2 - 3 Crossing the Drake Passage (Southbound)

Start your Antarctic adventure with a crossing of the Drake Passage, a vast stretch of open ocean that marks the Antarctic Convergence, where nutrient-rich waters sustain a vibrant ecosystem.

While at sea, attend expert-led talks on Antarctica's history, wildlife, and geology. Head to the open decks or the bridge to spot albatrosses, petrels, and even whales. Adventure activities, including navigation workshops and safety briefings for kayaking and snowshoeing, will also be held.

By the end of Day 3, the first sighting of icebergs and snow-capped peaks will signal your arrival at the South Shetland Islands.

Day 4 - 7 Exploring the Antarctic Peninsula

The core of the journey unfolds as you explore the Antarctic Peninsula and South Shetland Islands, with each day offering a blend of landings, zodiac cruises, and optional adventure activities: Kayaking Among Icebergs, Snowshoeing Adventures, Penguin Colonies, Wildlife Encounters.

With over 500 diverse landing sites along the Antarctic Peninsula, no two voyages are ever the same. Expert team crafts each expedition based on conditions, weather, and opportunities for the most remarkable encounters.

Guided by experienced crew, you'll navigate breathtaking ice-choked channels, witness towering glaciers, and encounter extraordinary wildlife in one of the most remote places on Earth. This is not just a cruise — it's a genuine expedition where spontaneity and discovery define every day.

ITINERARY · DAYS 8 - 10

THE ENDING OF YOUR ULTIMATE JOURNEY

Day 8 Farwell Landings

As the expedition heads back north, there's an opportunity for a final landing or zodiac cruise. Weather and ice conditions permitting, explore destinations like Brown Bluff, where towering cliffs and an Adélie penguin colony await, or Paulet Island, home to historic sites and abundant wildlife.

Day 9 Crossing the Drake Passage (Northbound)

Relive your adventures as you cross the Drake Passage, keeping an eye out for seabirds and whales along the way. Take part in final lectures or workshops, and enjoy a celebratory dinner with your fellow travellers as you reflect on the unforgettable journey.

Day 10 Return to Ushuaia

Arrive back in Ushuaia in the early morning. After breakfast, disembark with cherished memories of an epic Antarctic expedition and new stories to tell.
