PROFILE AND EDUCATION

Brian grew up in Richardson County, Nebraska, where he attended elementary and high school. Brian has worked in the mass appraisal industry since 2019. He is well-versed in the physical review process of residential, commercial, agricultural, and special-use properties and has experience with the CAMA system. Brian will continue the study of mass appraisal practices and business management. In his preceding 17-year professional career, Brian advanced through several management positions in the construction supply industry. His responsibilities covered all areas applicable to both residential and commercial construction. Brian is one of the founding partners of Central Plains Valuation in 2020.
