About us

Credex Financial Services Inc. has been a leading supplier of professional debt recovery services since 1991.

As a government-licensed and bonded collection agency, our experience, expertise and integrity has earned us the trust and respect of our clients.

Credex offers the confidence that comes from working with a business that has 30 years of collection experience and we guarantee our debt recovery process with our No Collection - No Charge policy so our clients only pay for results.

Professional Debt Recovery

The foundation of our business is a professional debt recovery process that is designed to maximize recoveries on delinquent accounts while maintaining a professional and ethical image of our company and that of our clients.

Within minutes of account placement, our licensed collection officers start to analyze and evaluate your accounts with a systematic approach to shorten the time between first contact and receipt of payment.

At Credex we understand the power of personal contact and persistence. Our staff uses professionally scripted telephone and written communication protocols. We do not rely on auto-dialers, voicemail programs or simplistic letter campaigns to recover your accounts. Our asset and income verification, skip tracing, civil court searches and credit reporting services all serve to enhance timely recovery of your accounts.

Account placement is as simple as completing the attached Debt Assignment form. Should you have a large volume of placements, our client services department would be pleased to discuss alternate methods for ease of placement.

Prompt placement of delinquent accounts dramatically improves our ability to maximize recoveries and increase your cash flow.
