

DISCOVER A HEALTHIER FUTURE WITH COMPOUNDING PHARMACY SOLUTIONS!

Are skyrocketing prescription costs and supply availability for weight loss medications like Wegovy, Mounjaro, and Ozempic draining your company's resources? You're not alone. With the current trend of corporations reducing coverage for weight loss medications, it's time to explore smarter solutions that benefit both your employees' health and your bottom line. BioCore Therapeutics is proud to say we have worked with, interviewed, tested, and trialed numerous compounding pharmacies across the nation. After carefully reviewing the data, we chose to partner with only three, of which met our Medical Director's standards.

THE LANDSCAPE OF PRESCRIPTION COVERAGE

In recent years, corporations have been facing a growing challenge when it comes to insurance coverage for weight loss medications. As obesity rates continue to rise, these medications have become essential tools for managing weight and promoting overall health. However, many insurance plans are shifting their focus away from these medications, leaving employees with limited options and hefty out-of-pocket expenses. This trend not only affects individuals' health journeys but also adds financial strain to both employees and their employers.
