Frequently Asked Questions

Why is CommunityScape the best way to organize my online relationships and resources?

We have designed our platform with the express purpose of being the best way for you to organize your relationships and resources. There is no advertising, no data exploitation, no trolls - just a real partner working with you to organize your online world.

What are some ways that people use their CommunityScape?

Students and professionals use CommunityScape as a calm organized place to share their bio, resume, skills and interests. Educators use CommunityScape to organize and share teaching materials in topics they are passionate about. Leaders use CommunityScape to get their online resource world organized and available to the many groups they serve. Family members use CommunityScape to organize photos, videos, recipes, vacation ideas and family stories. Many of us simply think of CommunityScape as our online homebase - for organizing our personal and professional interests and sharing our resource world with others.

Is it easy to set up and maintain?

It only takes a few minutes to get going. You can add as much or as little profile information as you like. And then it is easy and fun to add topics and resources that interest you.

Will my CommunityScape grow with me?

Everything is connected in CommunityScape. It is easy to add new relationships and resources as your life evolves and grows.

What do you mean when you say you are a social enterprise?

It means we put our social mission first. Like all enterprises we need to achieve and maintain financial health. As a social enterprise, our financial models and benchmarks are integrally tied to our social purpose.

How do I get started?

Go www.communityscape.life and click "Join our Beta" in the upper right.

How can I bring CommunityScape to my team, organization or broader community?

We have a two-part mission. 1) to create the best way for anyone to purposefully organize their online world, free of data exploitation and advertising; and 2) to organize and connect relationships, talents, resources, and histories across organizations and communities. If you are interested in sharing CommunityScape with groups and organizations that you are a part of, you can find these printable materials at www.communityscape.life and start a conversation with us at www.communityscape.life/contact.
