

FoodeesFest rolls into Dezerland Park with three days of flavor, fun and free admission

America's favorite food truck festival brings diverse cuisine, handcrafted goods and indoor attractions to one epic destination

ORLANDO, Fla. (Feb. XX, 2026) — FoodeesFest, known nationwide as America's Favorite Food Truck Festival, is making its first-ever appearance at Dezerland Park Feb. 20 through Feb. 22, bringing thousands of hungry guests to Florida's largest indoor attraction for a three-day celebration packed with bold bites, handcrafted goods and high-energy, family-friendly fun.

The nationally touring festival features dozens of food trucks serving up diverse cuisine from across the country — from savory comfort classics to over-the-top desserts and globally inspired specialties. In addition to the culinary lineup, artisan vendors will showcase handcrafted goods, unique finds and locally made treasures, creating a vibrant marketplace atmosphere under one roof.

With free admission for all guests, FoodeesFest is expected to draw record-breaking crowds throughout the weekend. Organizers encourage attendees to reserve complimentary tickets in advance for quicker entry, event updates and to help prepare for high attendance. Walk-ins are welcome, and food, drinks and crafts will be available for purchase directly from vendors, with both cash and card accepted.

"This is an exciting first for us at Dezerland Park," said Todd Larkin, Director of Marketing of Dezerland Park. "We're thrilled to bring FoodeesFest to Orlando in such a dynamic, indoor venue where guests can enjoy incredible food, shop unique vendors and spend the entire day exploring everything Dezerland has to offer."

Beyond the festival, guests can turn their visit into a full-day experience by exploring Dezerland Park's more than 850,000 square feet of attractions, including 12 indoor entertainment experiences and the Orlando Auto Museum — making it the perfect rain-or-shine destination.
