

WHAT'S NEW?

For Thought

Our goal is to make value added generosity in humans a standard that's aligned with nature's supportive approach throughout the year, thereby extending mindfulness experienced during seasonal giving.

None of us ever have to fight over sunlight. We're all given access to similar amounts by region. Imagine always being open to the same level of accessibility. There's no need to waste energy on futile attempts for disrupting flowing sunshine while hoping there's less optimal growth elsewhere. These meaningful realities occur in many areas naturally. Alignment of personal action could help ensure we're always maximizing individual strengths when focusing on things that add real value to the process. Neighboring GrowMeKit (GMK) sprouting shouldn't ever interfere with your progress. Nature's abundance allows reaching places we aren't able to. Replicate it whenever possible & expect contagious balance to spread like wildflowers.

2023 | Growth | Time

Routine Matters

Once yearly we're more thoughtful, grateful, appreciative & gratitude aware while seemingly putting forth efforts to finally share growing abundance. The beginning of another year is great for GrowMeKit. This front row view provides amazing experience through 4 days of nature's reveal after nurturing. It's a personal sized planter, all organic ingredients, supportive plants, & everything needed for meaningful learning, conveniently packaged & ready to be distributed. Help your connections kickstart a self care practice before the busyness of new routines sets in. Realign with reality while completely disconnected. This small wonder gives everyone a chance to recognize and draw their own conclusions throughout the process. Empowered reflecting. Clarity might even lead to great habit.

GrowMeKit is the win/win Experience for all + Everything's included! It's a great way to reconnect with purpose. A wonderful nature inspired resource for everyone. Be miles apart while connecting through real experience. This learning is someone's master class that's waiting for your response.

It's time to order this year's kit! Include everyone deserving of a replenishment experience to help with personal resets. They'll receive just enough resources to have a great time while evolving - instead of being focused on excessive cleaning and other energy depleting effort. Leave the dirty work to us.

Why Does PlanAids Use Right Size Experience Portions?

We're applying the same preferred convenience principles that allow us to enjoy only what's required in lieu of the excessive. It's better for consumers and alleviates need for "more than necessary" while ensuring planned ease that leads to the predictable. No need for added stress when working to minimize drivers that seem to allow it. Our #1 is the GMK Connection Experience allowing everyone to align with nature while better understanding importance of its meaningful process. Available all year. Instructional guides now included.
