Fall Session: Color It In Color is fundamental to our experience of the world around us. Color is communication, language, meaning, and emotion. Together we'll follow the theme of color through a variety of art projects to make unexpected connections and discoveries. Students will use printmaking, painting, collage, and sculpting techniques to explore the science, history, and psychology of color. For inspiration, we'll look to contemporary artists who investigate color's ability to express new questions about human perception.
