

Fraser Coast Future Gen

“In this land of drought, floods and sweeping plans, few things are certain except that the big dry will end in rain and the future belongs to the coming generations. While Show Societies cannot control the weather, we can prepare our Future Gen for the roles of tomorrow.”

Our aim is to bring like-minded youth aged between 13-18 years old to get involved in the “Future Gen” program. With this program, we strive to encourage youth to create community connections with other like-minded youth as well as involvement in the preparation of the local Show and potentially beyond.

MISSION STATEMENT: Our mission for Future Gen is to give local youth the opportunity to connect with other like-minded youth, build rapport with the knowledgeable members of our society, to gain the necessary skillset and attitudes to thrive in the next generation of the Show movement and thus continue its legacy.

WHO WE ARE: We are the youth division of the Fraser Coast Agriculture Society Inc. Our aim is to positively encourage youth, advocate and to embrace the extensive history of the Show movement whilst additionally sustaining our future generation.

WHAT WILL THIS PROGRAM INVOLVE?

- Learning all aspects of the Show. This will include but is not limited to planning, learning schedules and working closely with our stewards.
- Youth events such as the “Young Farmers Challenge” and social events outside of the Show.
- Youth will obtain necessary skills that they will be able to utilise for life such as an eye for detail, a solid work ethic, communication skills, the ability to work unsupervised, forming bonds and using initiative.
- The opportunity to participate in the near north coast sub-chamber Junior Showgirl finals.
