

Bruno Lafon

True Coast Chardonnay, Blanc, 2023

Vin de France, VSIG, France

True Coast wines are the South in a glass, flirting with Mediterranean breezes in the Limoux vineyards. Here, grapes get VIP treatment, turning into wines that taste like they've been sunbathing and enjoying the diverse local weather. Pop open a bottle and get a taste of this sunny paradise. Crafted by Bruno Lafon and his wine-whispering crew, True Coast is a toast to French wine culture, blending old-school vino wisdom with a twist of now.

PRESENTATION

Lafon and Chardonnay, both Burgundy natives, are like two peas in a pod! Bruno's choice of vineyards, perched at loftier altitudes, is no accident. These heights offer just the right cool, temperate playground for the grapes to develop those snappy aromas and a crispness that'll make your taste buds dance. It's as if the Chardonnay is getting a taste of mountain air before gracing your glass!

LOCATION

Limoux's northern vineyards, where those grapes soak up the sun while chilling in the cool air, are the South of France's best-kept secret. Think of it as the Goldilocks zone for Chardonnay – not too hot, not too cold, just right for these pampered grapes. The soil here is a fancy mix of chalk and clay, perfect for giving our wine its zesty edge. With cool nights and sunny days, this Chardonnay keeps its refreshing zing. It's like a spa retreat for grapes, resulting in a wine that's both rich and as lively as a spring day!

VINIFICATION

The grapes enjoy a bit of moonlight magic with night-time harvesting, keeping them cool and fresh. Bruno then gently clarifies the must at low temperatures, capturing the essence of each grape. The fermentation takes a relaxed pace at 16°-17°C in sleek stainless steel tanks, ensuring every note is perfectly tuned. Finally, a light filtration before bottling makes sure the wine you get is as clear and crisp as a starry night.

TASTING

This Chardonnay is a no-fuss, smooth sipper straight from one of Bruno's top-producing buddies. It's like a fruit basket with peach, pineapple, and citrus vibes, all coming together for a full, round taste that ends with a snappy finish. Plus, there's a hint of nuttiness that adds a neat twist and makes it a great match for a bunch of foods. It's a champ with things like fresh crab, grilled fish, light chicken dishes, or pasta and risotto packed with spring veggies. And hey, it's also pretty awesome with creamy veggie soups. T° of service: ±12°C / ±54°F.
