Please document any bite history on the back of this sheet (use additional pages if necessary). Include the events leading to the bite, and the severity of the bite to the best of your ability.

Write down the biggest concerns, and what your goals of training are, and what tools you use (head collars, prong collars, body harnesses, buckle collars, clickers, shock collars, etc).

Additionally, feel free to elaborate on all the concerns you have regarding your dog and his/her behavior. What circumstances do you see the behavior? How long has it been going on? What would you like your end goal to be? The more information, the better!

Janet Vera is a Certified Professional Dog Trainer and Behavior Specialist. The training and theories used in training are positive reinforcement and based in science. The basics of learning theory apply to all mammalian species, though each animal is an individual. The use of training and management techniques will be used to improve the situation but no guarantees will be made as to the progress of any specific pet. There are many factors that go into the equation: the specific animal, the environment, owner compliance, owner's ability to execute a training plan, medical history of the pet, previous and current training and management techniques and more.

If after the consultation if Janet Vera feels that you need to see a veterinary behaviorist a note of that will be made in the report, and the client will be directed to the best professionals for a particular case.
