The Masonic Order of Athelstan in the Province of Mercia

The Order is based on the historic records of the life and legend of King Athelstan. The focus of the Order is to show how this early reference to the importance of Masonry in English History was significant for the development of speculative Freemasonry.

The Masonic Order of Athelstan portrays the story of a Master Mason being called to York in 926 AD to receive the Ancient Charges from the King. Throughout its ceremony the ritual contains a great deal of symbolism that is still to be seen in some Lodges today and a great deal that is not currently worked.

The Order, in England and Wales, is structured so that its Provinces, wherever possible, reflect and represent the original Kingdoms and Gilds (original spelling of Guilds) as they were set up by King Athelstan during his reign as "The First King of all the English". Our Provinces do not, therefore, correlate directly with the English County divisions; Our Provinces amalgamate and include areas from existing counties to provide Provinces large enough to support and sustain the required 10 Courts.

Throughout Masonic ceremonies there are many legends that are used to tell a story and portray moral values. The ceremonies within this Order are no different. The Athelstan ceremony focuses on the legend of the York Assembly of 926 AD and uses this as the framework and conduit for our own ceremony. The story is the summoning of the Master Masons to the York Assembly for further "instruction" of Masonic ritual and symbolism and in doing so follows the historic development of the Craft over the following centuries.

The aim of the Masonic Order of Athelstan is to encourage and prompt its members into actual further study and research. As such, each Candidate is carefully chosen due to their interest in Masonic history and is "instructed" into the Order.

Membership of the Order is strictly by invitation and members are expected to take a wide and committed interest in all aspects of Freemasonry, there are therefore mandatory requirements for each member to have current, active and ongoing membership of both Craft and Royal Arch Masonry. To this end the Order is fully committed to supporting the United Grand Lodge of England and expects each and every member of the Order to give full support and allegiance to the United Grand Lodge of England.

A GLOSSARY OF COURT NAMES

High Cross

High Cross in Leicestershire is the name given to the cross roads of the Roman roads of Watling Street and Fosse Way on the border between Leicestershire and Warwickshire. A naturally strategic high point, High Cross was the central crossroads of Anglo-Saxon and Roman Britain. As denoted by its name, High Cross is at the top of a hill. An account of the site in a popular magazine of 1827 claimed that, "The ground here is so high, and the surrounding country so low and flat, that it is said, fifty-seven churches may be seen from this spot by the help of a glass [telescope]."

Wychbury

Wychbury Hill is a hill situated off the Birmingham Road at Hagley, Stourbridge on the border of West Midlands and Worcestershire. It is the site of Wychbury Ring, an Iron-age hill fort and the Wychbury Obelisk. The site contains a 28-tree ancient yew grove. The name is derived from that of the Saxon sub-kingdom of the Hwicce.

Leofwyne

Leofwine is an Old-English name meaning 'dear friend'. Leofwine, Ealdorman of the Hwicce, died in or after 1023. He was appointed Ealdorman of the Hwicce by King Æthelred II of England in 994. The territory of the Hwicce was a kingdom in the Western Midlands in the early Anglo-Saxon period, which soon became a subdivision of Mercia.

Bernesedelaue

The name is indicated as a Wapentake in the County of Nottinghamshire in the Domesday Book of 1086; in earlier documents as Bernet-seatte and thereafter as Bassettlaw. A possible interpretation of this place-name is a "compound of bærnet, 'land cleared by burning' and sæte, 'settlers, inhabitants'.

Wrœcensætan

During the 7th Century, the river Severn became a boundary between the lands of two rival tribes; the Magonsætan who lived to the south of the river and the Wrœcensætan (People of the Wrekin) who lived to the north of the river.

Offa

Offa, who died 29 July 796, was King of Mercia from 757 until his death. He came to the throne after a period of civil war. In the early years of Offa's reign, it is likely that he consolidated his control of Midland peoples such as the Hwicce and the Magonsæte.

St Chad

Chad, who died 2 March 672, was a prominent 7th Century Anglo-Saxon churchman, who became abbot of several monasteries, Bishop of the Northumbrians and subsequently Bishop of the Mercians and Lindsey People. He was later canonised as a saint.

CYNINGSTUN 10–90

Cyningstun is an old Anglo-Saxon word which means ‘Kings Manor or Estate’. It relates to that place, which now forms part of modern-day Kingston, where in St Mary’s Church (later replaced by All Saints Church) the Coronation Stone originally stood. It was also the place where the boundaries of Wessex and Mercia met.

The numbers 10–90 allude to the 10th anniversary of this Order in 2015, the year in which each Court made a donation in favour of the Grand Master’s Appeal in support of All Saints Church at Kingston-upon-Thames in Surrey, being also 1090 years after the Coronation of Athelstan in 925.

The appeal fulfilled a double purpose, firstly to mark the 10th Anniversary of the Inauguration of our Order and secondly to commemorate the moving of the Coronation Stone, upon which Anglo Saxon Kings were enthroned, in close proximity to its original location in the grounds of All Saints Church, which we celebrate as the spiritual home of our Order.

The emblem, which is reproduced on the summonses of the Courts, is a representation of one of the Angels which are prominently displayed in the vaulted roof of All Saints Church. The Crown represents Athelstan’s Crown and is a reminder of his anointing and subsequent coronation in 925 AD seated upon the Coronation Stone.

An explanation of the Cyningstun 10–90 should always be given to the Worshipful Master following his Installation in those Courts which participated in the appeal.

THE ANCIENT MASONIC ORDER OF ALFRED THE GREAT

The AMOAG arose from the Order of the Scarlet Mantle in 2019, that Order being founded as a “reward” Order for meritorious service in the Masonic Order of Athelstan (MOA). The AMOAG remains an invitational Order with much enhanced and Grade based rituals. The enhancing lessons of the Ancient Order have been designed to further complement those found within the MOA Instruction Ceremony and have evolved to go much further than those of the original Scarlet Mantle. As the MOA has grown, it has become ever harder to judge meritorious service fairly across an Order which is now firmly established internationally, both as Overseas Provinces and separate daughter Constitutions. With a limited officer structure, it has also been challenging to admit candidates in the numbers nominated, especially as it is our desire that the benefits of membership be extended as widely as possible. These criteria and others have led to the proposal for sovereignty and concomitant structural reorganisation.

Presently AMOAG membership is conferred on those nominated by Athelstan Provincial Grand Masters, with numbers limited by Statute. It is proposed that a fairer system of recognition which is transparent to all and retains the special nature of the Order is now necessary. Therefore, we have determined that as the sole qualification, those invited candidates shall be Past Masters of the MOA of three years standing (either by Special progression or those who have served as Worshipful Master of a Court). Current members of AMOAG who do not hold that distinction will retain their full membership and will not be disadvantaged in any way.

The Province of Mercia is within the Western Shire and members are admitted at a Regional Council called for that purpose. The AMOAG is a strictly invitational and merit-based Order. There is no right of membership for any brother considering himself qualified
