

Nive Loganathan is the Executive Director of Technology and Information Security Audit at NCR Atleos, the world's largest provider of ATMs, associated technology and services. She leads a high performing Internal Audit and Data Analytics team at NCR Atleos and serves as a trusted advisor to the board and senior leadership.

Nive is a dynamic leader with over 20 years of proven track record and cross-functional experience spanning Software Engineering, Product Management, Total Quality Management, Information Security, Governance, Risk & Compliance and Auditing across FinTech and other industries. Having had the privilege of living and working across various geographies and in diverse regulatory and risk landscapes, Nive is deeply committed to strengthening organizational governance and controls and enabling resilient risk navigation across complex environments.

Nive holds her Bachelor of Engineering in Electrical and Electronics from Anna University, India and her Master of Business Administration from University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, USA. She is a Certified Information Systems Auditor (CISA), Certified Information Security Manager (CISM), Certified ISO 27001 Internal Information Security Auditor (CIISA), Certified ISO 9001 Internal Quality Auditor (IQA), Certified Software Quality Analyst (CSQA), Certified IT Infrastructure Library foundation Professional (ITIL), Certified Scrum Master (CSM) and Six Sigma Black Belt (6 σ BB). Nive also serves as a visiting professor, sharing her expertise in Cybersecurity, Process Excellence, and Product Management with students across several global universities.