

Steve Jackson is a Principal in EY's Risk Consulting practice. With 20 years in the risk and compliance space, Steve has helped numerous clients build and maintain effective Internal Audit and Risk functions and navigate through periods of significant disruption. Steve regularly advises how teams can address challenges related to IA's mandate, people model, and operations, and how functions can stay nimble and relevant in the face of geopolitical uncertainty and rapid changes in risk profiles.