AVP, Global Internal Audit

Heron Schelp is the Chief Audit Executive at AGCO, where he leads the transformation of the global Internal Audit function through innovation and the strategic adoption of advanced technologies. With over 25 years of experience and deep expertise in risk management, governance, and internal controls, Heron champions the integration of data analytics, automation, and AI-enabled solutions to enhance audit effectiveness, improve risk insights, and reduce manual effort. He has driven initiatives to modernize SOX compliance, embed controls within automated processes, and leverage digital tools to deliver more proactive and value-driven assurance. Heron partners closely with senior executives to align audit strategy with enterprise priorities while proactively addressing emerging risks tied to digital transformation, regulatory change, and global operations—helping position AGCO’s governance framework as more agile, forward-looking, and technology-enabled.
