

Alasdair MacKinnon, CIA, CA

Alasdair MacKinnon is a Managing Director with JC Jones Advisory Services, an Atlantix Partners company that specializes in internal audit, business management consulting, and IT services. Alasdair has expertise in internal audit, risk and compliance consulting, business process re-engineering, SOX implementation and optimization, and data analytics. He serves a mix of local, national, and international clients and has performed valued added EQAs for both public companies and colleges.

Alasdair began his career with Arthur Andersen in Scotland before joining PricewaterhouseCoopers in the US. He has extensive international internal audit experience with Global Crossing and Google. Before joining JC Jones, Alasdair was the Chief Audit Executive of Home Properties, a publicly listed REIT. He earned his bachelor's in accounting from the University of Glasgow and is a Scottish CA and a US CIA. Alasdair also serves on various Boards and Committees for a number of charities and volunteer organizations, including being Past President of the Rochester Chapter of the IIA. He was previously a tour guide at The Glenlivet distillery in Scotland.