

Results-oriented executive with 30+ years of finance, accounting and information technology experience with large public companies. Decisive leader with a highly collaborative style and broad business acumen. Skilled in analyzing complex scenarios and identifying operational improvements resulting in financial savings.

Chief Risk Officer at Jack Henry and Associates, responsible for Information Security Oversight and Governance, Enterprise Risk Management, Regulatory, Third Party Risk Management, Occupational Risk and Corporate Audit Services. National practice leader of enterprise risk management (ERM) for two years at BKD CPAs and Advisors responsible for designing and helping implement several ERM programs in multiple industry verticals. Lead the Internal Audit function at Devon Energy for 11 years. Held a number of leadership positions at American Airlines including leadership roles in Internal Audit, Revenue Accounting, Interline Accounting, Credit Card Services, Canadian Accounting and Accounts Payable over a 13-year period. Computer programmer, project manager and Supervisor of Technical Services within the information technology group at Williams over a 5-year period.

A CPA, CISA and CIA who has championed various multi-million dollar system development efforts, created risk assessment approaches for cyber security audits and performed access control assessments, information security classification and policy and procedure development and testing. Developed and supported risk, audit and controls frameworks. Coordinated with Legal and Security functions to investigate allegations of fraud and abuse. Extensive experience developing Audit Committee reporting processes, corporate policies and structuring compliance systems for internal processes as well as vendors and joint ventures.