

Haley Beatty

Haley Beatty is the leader of Forensic Services at Aprio. She has over thirteen years of experience performing investigations and advising clients across all industries on fraud detection and prevention as well as anti-money laundering regulations. She has worked with companies of all sizes including startups and some of the largest financial institutions in the world.