

Latina S. Fauconier

Partner, PwC – Deals Accounting Advisory

Latina is a Partner in PwC's Deals practice with 19 years of experience helping clients evaluate and solve complex accounting and financial reporting issues related to deals and other transformative events. Latina across various industries, most recently consumer markets and industrial products. Latina's expertise includes mergers and acquisitions, capital market transactions, GAAP conversions, and technical topics such as business combinations, stock-based compensation, revenue recognition, consolidation, and leasing.

Latina also spent time in PwC's National Quality Office focusing on Accounting & SEC Services and was a Professional Accounting Fellow within the SEC's Office of the Chief Accountant.

Latina holds a bachelor's degree in accounting from Xavier University of Louisiana and is a licensed CPA in Washington state, New York, New Jersey and Georgia. Latina is also a member of the AICPA.