

Virginia E. Neiswender is Associate General Counsel, Enterprise Privacy at Cox Enterprises, Inc. Virginia has over 20 years of legal experience, including in the areas of privacy, data security, data governance, compliance, product development, and risk. In her current role, Virginia is responsible for leading a team of privacy professionals in support of Cox's overall compliance with privacy and data protection laws and regulations. Prior to joining Cox, Virginia worked at a human capital management services company, private law firms, and the Federal Government providing day-to-day legal advice on matters related to privacy, security, product development, and compliance. Virginia received her Juris Doctorate from the University of Arizona. Virginia is admitted to practice in Maryland and Pennsylvania. She currently holds both the CIPP/US and CIPP/E certifications.