

Hackers are increasingly targeting small & mid-sized businesses, yet few owners believe they are at risk of attack!

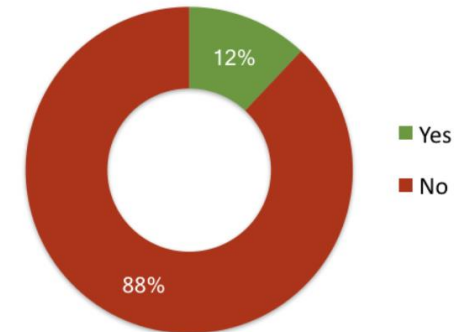

Do you feel you are at risk of experiencing a data breach?

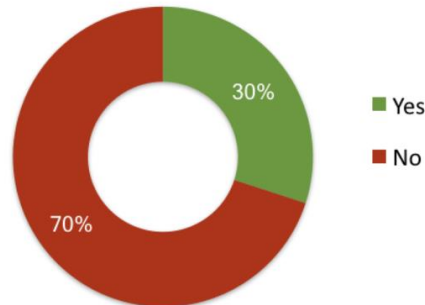

Do you have IT security controls in place?

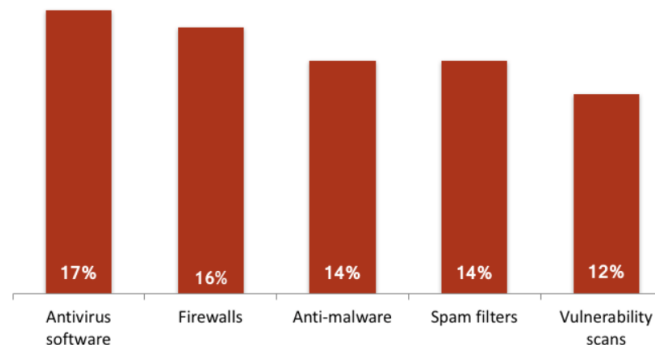

Has your business ever experienced a data breach?

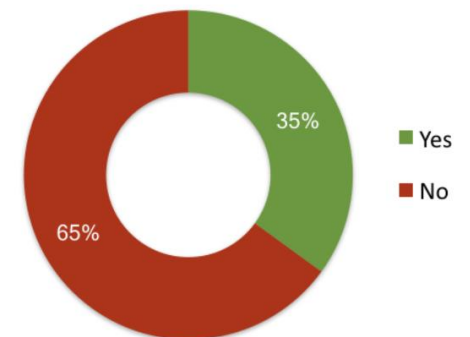

Do your employees use personal devices for work purposes?

What IT security controls does your business use?

Do you have a BYOD policy in place?

Small businesses are the newest targets for hackers, given their size, lack of skilled staff and minimal funds devoted to data defense. These charts reflect the responses from a March, 2017, Manta poll to gauge the risk.
