Part 2 - Shavuot

Test of Faith and Prayer

- In John 6:5, Jesus sees a large crowd approaching and asks Phillip where they can buy bread to feed them.
- Jesus already knows the answer and asks this question to test Phillip's faith.
- Phillip gives the wrong answer by saying that 200-dinar worth of bread is not enough for each person to have even a mouthful.
- Andrew mentions that there is a boy with five barley loaves and two small fish but doubts that it would be enough to feed everyone.
- Jesus tells the crowd to sit down and there are about 5,000 men present.
- Jesus already knows what he is going to do and uses this situation as a test of faith and prayer.
- Prayer is emphasized as the key to understanding God's plans.
- God already knows what he is going to do before we pray, but prayer is still essential.
- Jesus tested Phillip to see if he would rely on prayer or try to figure out the solution on his own.
- The example of a problem presented to Phillip and the disciples is given as a lesson on the importance of relying on prayer rather than human understanding.
- Prayer should not be a mechanical or repetitive practice, but a meaningful and authentic communication with God.
- The focus is on understanding the purpose and importance of prayer before learning how to pray effectively.

- Prayer is not about the words spoken, but rather about recognizing one's helplessness and dependence on God.
- Even when faced with problems, God often waits to see if individuals will seek Him for a solution or attempt to handle the situation on their own.
- The act of prayer is not redundant since God already knows what individuals need; it serves to establish a relationship of need and dependency.
