Part 5

The Importance of Prayer and Seeking the Kingdom of Yahweh

- The significance of prayer in the church has been emphasized, as it is considered the missing element in worship.
- The purpose of previous teachings on prayer was to address questions such as why we need to pray if God already knows everything and has plans for our lives.
- The model prayer taught by Yua is being studied, with the focus on the first two words, "Our Father."
- The scripture passage in Matthew 6:31-33 emphasizes that worrying about material needs is characteristic of Gentiles, while Israelites are called to seek the kingdom of Yahweh and His righteousness.
- Seeking the kingdom of Yahweh and living according to His ways should take priority, as other necessary things will be provided.

- They state that a law of Nature and a law of the spirit can never be broken.
- The speaker emphasizes the importance of recognizing and understanding laws, using the example of patterns and rhythms that eventually become laws.

- The purpose of prayer is to ask the Father and believe that He delights in providing everything needed.
- Resting in work is possible when Yahweh is acknowledged as the ultimate source, rather than relying solely on one's job or work.
- A distinction is made between those who know and have a relationship with the Father and those who do not.
- Those who do not know the Father are described as seeking after things and being caught in the "Rat Race" mentality.
- Coming to God confidently as a child and seeking Him as a loving Father is emphasized.

Putting Yah (God) First and Trusting in Him

- When you trust in Yah (God), you can come boldly before your father and Heaven and ask for what you want.
- Trusting in Yah makes other things in life become secondary, as they are just added to you.
- The whole world is driven by greed, with Israelites emphasizing giving and gentiles emphasizing getting.
- You can identify someone's mindset by whether they are a giver or a taker.
- Greed motivates people to win at any cost, pushing and shoving others to get ahead and seeking personal gain.
- The spirit of the world is based on seeking things at any cost.
- The speaker mentions their wife's name brands and clarifies that they never paid for them, as the brands find them.

- The principle is to seek first the kingdom (Yah) and let everything else be added to you.
- By prioritizing Yah, one's life is not consumed by things, and they are provided for without actively seeking or knowing how they obtained it.
- The speaker encourages putting Yah first in all things and assures that everything will be added to you.

- The message being shared is changing the world and should not be interfered with.
- The next step after obedience to Yahweh is headship union with Yahweh's will.
- Prayer life needs to align with Yahweh's progressive will in every aspect of life.
- A scripture from John 14:13 is referenced, where asking in Jesus' name promises results.
- However, the problem arises when prayers made in Jesus' name do not come to fruition.
- Examples are given of prayers for a new home, healing, and casting out demons that did not see the desired outcomes.

- The speaker shares a personal example of someone asking for a Cadillac like the pastor but highlights that their own Cadillac was given to them rather than asked for.

- The name Yahweh means Almighty, Merciful, and Compassionate.
- The church often hides the true meaning of Yahweh from people.
- It is important to have a spiritual awakening where Yahweh's name comes out of one's mouth and life.
- Prayers should be filled with Mercy to be considered in Yahweh's name.

- It is not just about learning how to pronounce Yahweh, but also living out its meaning.

- Yeshua (Jesus) exemplified the character of the name Yahweh through his merciful, compassionate, patient, and longsuffering nature.
- Personal prayers made since understanding the meaning of Yahweh's name have been answered.

Understanding the Power and Meaning of Names in Prayer

- The power of prayer lies in the belief and understanding of the meaning behind the name being invoked.
- The name "Yahweh" alone does not guarantee answered prayers; one must deeply connect with and embody the essence of the name for it to be effective.
- The name "Jesus" represents the character and meaning of the Son of God, and invoking this name signifies belief in his sacrifice for sins.
- Moving beyond the pronunciation, it is the meaning behind a name that truly matters in prayer.
- Learning the meaning of a name deepens one's faith and strengthens their connection with the divine.
- Faithfulness to the house of God and to the work is more important than simply knowing how to pronounce a name.
- Understanding that the name "Yahweh" is hidden in the name "Jesus" allows for a greater understanding of the Father.
- Invoking the name "Yahweh" should be accompanied by a true understanding and embodiment of its meaning.

Importance of Names and Misunderstandings in the Church

- The name of the father is Yahweh, which represents mercy and compassion. Jesus came in his father's name and fulfilled the attributes of Yahweh.
- Despite performing miracles, Jesus never said "be healed in the name of Yahweh", as he knew he was the fulfillment of that name.

Unlocking The Unseen Realm with the Key of Prayer

- The constant repetition of saying "in Jesus name" or "in Yashua's name" without living up to the character of that name is a violation of the fourth commandment, which states that the name should be revered and not said foolishly.
- The emphasis should be on embodying the character of the name rather than constantly repeating it. Praying for personal glory instead of genuine healing is why no one is getting healed.
- Names hold significance, and when a person's name is taken away in prison, they become dehumanized.
- The problem in the church is a lack of understanding of the power and importance of names. Naming a child something contrary to their abilities is a misunderstanding.

The Importance of Embodying the Name of God

- When naming someone, it is important to understand that the name does not necessarily dictate their abilities or characteristics.
- Just as naming a child "Baker" does not automatically make them a skilled baker, calling on the name of Jesus or Yahweh requires a deeper understanding and connection.
- As believers, we are called to embody the nature and character of God, not just quote his name.
- Praying in the name of Jesus is not a magical incantation, but a recognition of our identity and authority in Christ.
- Paul's effectiveness in casting out demons came not from simply quoting Jesus' name, but from his embodiment of Jesus' nature.
- To have our prayers answered, we must align ourselves with God's nature, love what he loves, hate what he hates, and obey his commandments.
- Quoting the name of God without reflecting his character is ineffective and unrecognized by those we encounter.

The Power and Meaning of Names

- People's names often represent their character traits or qualities.
