

ANGELA NOVIELLO

OTI Italian Director and European Coordinator

Graduated from a Scientific High School with a Linguistic focus in Milan, she obtained a Professional Training Qualification and subsequently specialized in Aesthetics. She has participated in numerous national and particularly international courses and training for professional development. Her experience includes several stays abroad in disciplines such as massage, lymphatic drainage, endermology, makeup, applied technologies, management techniques, communication, and marketing, as well as other areas of aesthetics. Additionally, she has been a speaker at numerous national and international meetings and seminars.

Expert and consultant for beauty companies and industry publications, she has taught Professional Theory in Aesthetics for over fifteen years. Owner and director of a significant Italian Professional Aesthetic School, “Milano Estetica,” recognized by the Lombardy region for more than ten years. She is the Vice President of SMOE, the Italian Society of Cosmetic Physicians and Operators. Currently, she is the owner of the “Milano Estetica” Center. She obtained certification in Oncology Esthetics in April 2013. Going beyond traditional aesthetics, she has discovered a profound passion for providing comfort to oncology patients.

For several years, she volunteered at the San Raffaele Hospital in Milan for the “Salute allo Specchio” project, serving as the head of the esthetic area, offering safe esthetic treatments to oncology patients.

She collaborated on the first international scientific publication that supports the importance of oncology esthetics in the pathway

She currently collaborates as the head of the esthetic division for the “Look 4 Me” project at the Maria Letizia Verga Foundation, along with her team, providing safe esthetic treatments to young oncology patients at the hospital. She is also responsible for the “AMANDOTI” project in collaboration with the ANDOS Milan Association, conducting esthetic treatments and consultations for women undergoing oncological therapy at the MAUGERI Space. Furthermore, she coordinates and collaborates in the implementation of oncology esthetic clinics across the national healthcare system.
